R.A.F. Makes Heavy Attack On Duisburg

LONDON, April 10.—British bombers, raiding Germany for the third time in a little more than 24 hours, bombarded the steel city and river port of Duisburg with tons of demolition and fire bombs last night.

Eight planes were lost in the attack and subsidiary raids on other objectives in Germany's industrial Ruhr valley, where lie most of the plane, tank and munitions factories supplying Axis armies.

Coastal Command torpedo planes joined in the offensive with an evening attack on enemy shipping off the Norwegian coast. A tanker was hit by several torpedoes, but two aircraft were lost.

Duisburg, one of the largest inland ports in Europe and the site of the coke ovens of the German steel trust, now has been raided 58 times, the last the night of March 26.

MOSQUITOES RAID COLOGNE

Many two-ton block-buster bombs were among the cargoes of destruction dumped on Duisburg last night.

Only a few hours earlier, swift British Mosquito bombers at dusk attacked industrial objectives near Cologne, site of some of Germany's most important war factories, without loss in the wake of a strong force of four-engined bombers that pounded the industrial Ruhr Thursday night.

The Moscow radio warned the German people in a broadcast that they must expect continually increasing Anglo-American air raids on their industrial centres because the ability of their own air force to retaliate or repel the Allied aerial armadas had been smashed on the Russian front.

"Hitler and his bankrupt gang of criminals must disappear," the Russian station said. "Until this has happened, bombs will drop on German industrial works and daily thousands of Germans will die in Russia and Africa until Germany has been smashed and bled to death."

Subs Reappear Off East Coast

WASHINGTON, April 10.—(AP)—The first reported sinking of a merchant vessel off the United States east coast by an enemy submarine since last summer was announced today by the United States navy.

A medium sized United States merchant vessel was torpedoed and sunk by an enemy submarine early in April off the east coast of the United States," the navy said. "Survivors have landed at Miami, Fla."

The last previous announcement of a sinking on the east coast was made by the navy in August, 1942.

Officials declined comment on whether the new attack represented the beginning of a new campaign by U-boats in American waters.

R.C.A.F. Flies Injured Woman To Hospital

The Royal Canadian air force last night disclosed the story of a mercy flight in which a warplane took the temporary role of flying ambulance to rush a critically injured woman to hospital after automobiles bogged down on muddy roads attempting to reach her.

Wing Cmdr. W. G. McFarlane, officer commanding the R.C.A.F.'s northwest staging route, said the woman was critically hurt in an accident 50 miles northwest of Grande Prairie.

AUTOS BOG DOWN

A doctor reached the scene, but said there was little hope unless the woman could be taken to hospital immediately for an emergency operation. Automobiles tried to reach her but bogged down on the soggy roads.

The R.C.A.F. was called on for aid. Flt. Lt. Carl Crossley, former Ontario "bush flier" flew an R.C.A.F. plane from Edmonton and made a hazardous landing on a soggy field close to a house where the woman had been taken.

She was put aboard the plane and flown to hospital at Grande Prairie within a few minutes.

Name of the woman or details of the accident in which she was involved were not known. Wing Cmdr. McFarlane said he had no report on her condition since her arrival at hospital at Grande Prairie, 300 miles northwest of here.

Cross Commemorates Canada's Sacrifice at Vimy Ridge

One of the great triumphs of Canadian arms in the First Great War was the storming and capture of the Vimy Ridge on April 9, 1917. The French Army had lost thousands of men in futile efforts to take the ridge earlier in the war. The Canadian Corps had the entire position in its hands before dusk on the day of the assault, which was Easter Monday. At the Memorial Hall last night the triumph of Vimy was recalled in impressive ceremonies. Symbolizing the dead who gave their lives in the attack is the cross of sacrifice with a steel helmet on the top. Behind, the Union Jack and Stars and Stripes symbolizes the growing unity and resolve of the two great English-speaking nations to rid the world of tyranny. The colors of the Edmonton branches of the Canadian Legion are between the crossed flags. Standing at the left is Angus Murray, M.M., with two bars, and at the right is G. C. Scott, M.M., representative Legionnaires. (See story Page 11.)

Police Smash Black Market On Gasoline

MONTREAL, April 10.—(CP)—In more than 50 raids, Royal Canadian Mounted Police last night seized approximately 40,000 stolen gasoline rationing coupons and announced the smashing of a "black market" which they said had illegally distributed 750,000 gallons of gasoline since last September. Three men have been arrested.

Raids were made on gasoline stations, garages, taxicab stands and private residences.

The three men arrested had been taken into custody during the past few days by a special R.C.M.P. squad. Arraigned yesterday on charges of conspiracy, theft and violation of the oil controller's regulations, they all pleaded guilty and were remanded for sentencing April 16.

ACCUSED NAMED

The accused were Jean Levesque, 17-year-old apprentice printer at the Federated Press, which holds a government contract for printing rationing coupons; Laurier Richard, 21, and AC2 Paul Emile Provost of the R.C.A.F.

Officials of the Federated Press co-operated in the investigation, police said.

They added that Jean Levesque, the first arrested, was found in possession of 116 sheets of coupons each—representing a purchasing power of more than 30,000 gallons. They said Leves-

De Gaulle Lauds Allied Successes

LONDON, April 10—(CP)—Gen. Charles de Gaulle, leader of the Fighting French, sent a message to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, commander of the Allied armies in North Africa, pledging that in the present North African struggle, "the ardent good wishes of the French people go with you—with you personally and with the gallant Allied armies under your command."

The Fighting French leader's communication apparently was aimed at dispelling the feeling in some quarters that there were differences between de Gaulle and the Allied commander in North Africa.

The message was de Gaulle's first public expression since his headquarters announced last Monday the requested postponement of his trip and expressed regret over the delay.

Board to Review Facts

Industrial Unrest Under Wage Ceiling Is Growing

By B. T. RICHARDSON
Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, April 10.—Coming sittings of the National War Labor Board to conduct a general review of Canada's wage stabilization measures served today to direct public attention to growing industrial unrest under the wage ceiling.

Two developments have marked the field of labor relations recently, the growth of bitterness in labor circles and the sharp rise of anti-union sentiment in the press, especially among conspicuous anti-labor newspapers in eastern Canada. In the background many observers now believe, is a sharp political struggle in which on one hand politically-minded labor leaders are making use of the wage ceiling and the no-strike policy as powerful issues and on the other, opposition to the government is rallying on the labor issue for a showdown against the Mackenzie King government.

The McTague labor board will review the facts and probably bring in recommendations. That this will be a useful service at this stage, most people agree for the facts are tending to become obscure in a welter of hysteria and emotion. In the recent two-day Montreal street car strike for instance, facts are beginning to emerge that no one

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., April 10—(CP)—Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, Dominion labor minister told a gathering of Niagara district manufacturers that within six months there would be "very few" men or women in this country in non-essential jobs.

Conscientious objectors, Mr. Mitchell said, would be taken from camps and put on farms to help the war effort. Use of prisoner-of-war labor was also under consideration, the minister said.

Manitoba Flood Situation Eased

WINNIPEG, April 10. — (CP) — Receding waters in rivers of Manitoba erased some fears of serious floods although low-lying lands at many points still remained under water today.

Some farm families residing near the Assiniboine river near Poplar Point, about 30 miles west of Winnipeg, were forced to flee before onrushing water in wagons last night as the river overflowed both banks.

At Brandon, the Assiniboine rose two inches overnight but still has 10 inches to go before causing any serious flood damage in the immediate area. Ice has moved out and there were no reports of blockades.

Considerable damage has been done to docks at Selkirk by ice of the Red river, although water has gone down eight inches since yesterday.

Workmen labored to break up a number of reported ice jams near Winnipeg although water levels in both the Assiniboine and Red were down a few inches.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, North Africa, April 10.—Allied armies plunged through crumbling Axis defences on all Tunisian fronts today driving the enemy from the important coastal cities of Mahares and Sfax and from the mountain strongholds of Pichon and Fondouk in an all-out offensive that again threatened to cut off the fleeing Africa Corps of Marshal Erwin Rommel.

Spurred on by an order from Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery to smash on to Tunis and "drive the enemy into the sea," the British Eighth Army surged up the coastal road toward Sousse at the rate of more than 15 miles a day to seize both Mahares and Sfax and pursue the beaten enemy on toward the north. Axis troops were under constant aerial attack.

The British spearhead entered Sfax—which had been furiously bombed by the Allied air forces—at 8:15 a.m. today after covering the 22 miles from Mahares in approximately 19 hours.

Drive Enemy From Fondouk, Pichon

At the same time, British and American armored forces and infantry on the central sector made a joint attack Thursday morning from the north on the village of Fondouk and a nearby mountain position held by the enemy. By noon they had achieved their objective, having driven the enemy from Foundouk as well as nearby Pichon.

The offensive operations were continued today in conjunction with advances by the British First Army in northern Tunisia and by American forces pushing out from the Maknassy zone, south of Fondouk in an effort to cut through the last enemy mountain defences and strike Rommel's flank on the coastal plains south of Sousse.

The sudden acceleration of Allied advances meant that Rommel was speeding up his flight to the strong positions around Tunis and Bizerte in the north, where he hopes to hold out for a long time. But Montgomery, in a message to his troops, said that if the collection of prisoners at the present rate continued the enemy "will soon have no infantry left to hold his positions" in the north.

MONTGOMERY MESSAGE

"Let us make the enemy face up to and endure a first-class Dunkirk on the beaches of Tunis," Montgomery said. "The triumphant cry now is: 'Forward to Tunis. Drive the enemy into the sea'."

Although Montgomery mentioned only 15,000 prisoners, the total number was well above that figure.

On the northern front, the

Bracken Says Full Employment Needed

OTTAWA, April 10—(CP)—John Bracken, National Progressive Conservative leader, in a speech last night declared the failure of democracy in the past was in not providing full employment of men and resources and warned there must be no such failure in the future.

Addressing the 10th anniversary dinner of the Ottawa Junior Board of Trade, he said it was desirable that private enterprise provide employment but to the extent that private enterprise failed the state would have to do so and state employment was less efficient.

Mr. Bracken endorsed Canada's coming $1,100,000,000 Victory loan.

"I ask you and other Canadians to do their part to see that the money is raised," he said.

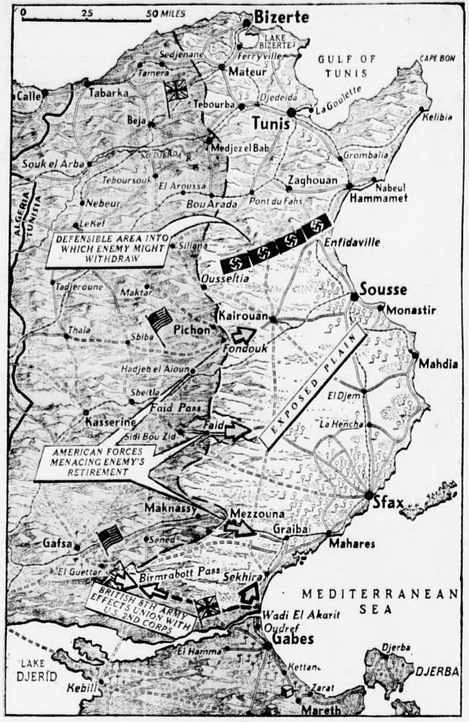
Daily War Map—Exclusively in The Edmonton Bulletin



The accompanying map of Tunisia illustrates the general tactical position and shows the American forces strung along the ridge which borders the coastal plain from Sousse to Gabes, with concentrations of force at the important passes which German rearguards are attempting to bar. It is suggested that Gen. Montgomery will drive northwestward toward the Birmrabott Pass, and by threatening the enemy's rear, force him to withdraw and leave a path open for a junction of British and American forces. From that point on, the choice is open as to whether outflanking columns from the 8th Army will drive up through Gafsa and Sidi Bou Zid to the Faid Pass in the hope of intercepting Rommel's retreat, while aircraft seek to delay it, or whether new units of the British 1st Army and the 5th American Army will be concentrated at Sbattla and force a passage while Gen. Patton and Gen. Montgomery keep the enemy engaged in the south.

Early Break-Up Ice Is Forecast

If the break-up of ice in the North Saskatchewan river comes Saturday as officials at the city power plant expect it to do, it will be one of the earliest break-ups in the history of the city.

Water in the river rose three feet, six inches in several hours Saturday bringing the water high enough to carry the ice out. If this level is maintained the break-up should come between 4 and 6 p.m.

Average break-up time is mid-April with May 6, 1920 the latest date recorded in 50 years. April 4, 1930, was the earliest date recorded. Last year the ice broke up on April 28.

Although no sweepstake has been held on the break-up this year it is expected that a great many spectators will be on hand to watch the huge ice blocks rear up and rush past the bridge.

MOSCOW, April 10—The Red army threw back a new German attempt to break through Soviet defences along the Donets river below Balakleya, 45 miles southeast of Kharkov, today as field dispacthes reported large-scale Nazi preparations in the Ukraine for a summer offensive.

The sustained series of German attacks along the Donets were believed a prelude to an all-out German summer offensive. Front reports told of the massing of German reserves at the same Ukrainian bases from which the Axis launched its 1942 offensive that carried east to Stalingrad and southeast into the Caucasus.

(A Berlin dispatch to the Stockholm newspaper Adtonbladet said that the German army in Russia was being re-equipped with heavier weapons and other new equipment, including armored trucks for carrying infantry into battle. The biggest tank force ever concentrated under a single command was said to have been placed at the disposal of German Col.-Gen. Heinz Guderian for the impending offensive.)

British Forces Capture Vital Port of Sfax

British First Army captured 1,000 Germans in stubborn fighting in hilly country where they have now advanced ten miles and freed the Allied communications lines to Medjez El Bab. The British and Americans in the south also took another 1,500 prisoners and large groups were being captured in mopping-up operations. Five hundred other prisoners were taken around Fondouk.

(A Moroccan broadcast said British aircraft carriers were off the north Tunisian coast with their planes ready to join in the hammering of Axis forces concentrating in the Bizerte-Tunis area.)

IMPROVED WEATHER

Good weather again favored Allied air operations and the enemy was pounded without interruption on the roads and at his main bases. In one engagement, Allied planes shot down eight of 16 enemy dive bombers.

Allied officials speculated on whether Rommel would decide to defend Kairouan, which lies between Fondouk and Sousee and is a Moslem holy city second only to Mecca. Allies would prefer to avoid an attack on the city but if it is defended the attack will be made.

It is in the mountains above Sousse, 72 miles north of Sfax that German Marshal Erwin Rommel is expected to make his next stand against the Eighth Army driving up from the south and Anglo-American-French troops to the southwest.

The new Allied attack in Foundouk area may force Rommel to try to break off even rearguard action in his race to reach the natural defences of the mountains.

RUGGED COUNTRY

The British First Army's 10-mile advance in the northern sector was over the rock-strewn, mined heights on an arc some 30 to 40 miles below Tunis and Bizerte. One thousand prisoners have been captured since the attack was launched on a broad front between Medjezel Bab and Munchar Tuesday.

Altogether, Allied communiques issued in the last three weeks have enumerated the capture of 21,550 prisoners in addition to referring vaguely to scattered groups of "many prisoners."

Today's communique reported that a General Mannerini and the headquarters of the Saharan group were captured Thursday.

RICH IN HISTORY

The battle rapidly was moving into territory in Northern Tunisia which holds some of the world's richest military history. It was from Carthage, only a few miles outside Tunis, that Hannibal, generally regarded as the first of all soldiers, was born. Carthage for a time ruled a large portion of all Europe and only when completely destroyed by Rome, did it cease to threaten to rule the whole world.

que sold the tickets for three cents each to Provost who, with Richards, re-sold them wholesale at five to seven cents a coupon.

Officers said that jobbers, after obtaining the coupons from Povost and Richard, sold them retail to taxi-drivers, gasoline station attendants, garage owners and private individuals at prices ranging from $8 to $15 per book of 60 coupons.

IN "SPECIAL" CATEGORY

Inspector J. R. Lemieux of the R.C.M.P. told reporters most of the coupons seized were of the "special" category. However, 163 books of "AA" coupons have been stolen from the provincial revenue office here and some of those still are missing.

He said that about 39,000 unit coupons have been seized within the past 36 hours and that another 19,200 coupons have been definitely traced and will be seized shortly. Approximately 100 jobbers were reported to be handling the "retail" distribution of the coupons.

One seizure of 420 coupons was made at Riviere Du Loup, Que., far down the south shore of the St. Lawrence river.

"Aerial Toothache" New War Ailment For U.S. Dentists

NEW ORLEANS, April 10—(AP)—"Aerial toothache," a new and puzzling malady born of the tremendous pressures and speeds of combat flying, is one of the wartime problems confronting America's dentists, Dr. J. B. Robinson, president of the American Dental Association, said yesterday. "Research," he added, "is now under way to determine why a perfectly healthy set of teeth can come out of a cloud-tattering aerial dogfight aching like the very devil."

Unrest Growing In Canada Under Wages Ceiling

would have suspected from reading the Montreal English press at the time. The influential wing of the French press in that city has supported the settlement that was made.

GENERAL OUTLINES

With labor relations becoming one of the most critical issues on the home front, here are the general outlines of the situation:

1. Canada has mobilized 70 per cent of its manpower resources in service or employment related to the war, or 3,750,000 persons out of a total adult labor supply of 5,500,000, that is, 30 per cent of the available labor supply, or 1,750,000, is all that remains in production of civilian goods and services. There are 700,000 men in military service, 1,300,000 workers in war industries, and 1,750,000 adult workers in agriculture. Before the war 1,000,000 of these persons were unemployed.

2—Under these circumstances, Canada has about 1,000,000 new workers who have found occupations since the war. There is naturally a great field for expansion of organized labor, and plenty of scope for inter-union strife in seeking the allegiance of new union recruits. Some recent strikes have been primarily a matter of jurisdictional dispute between unions.

DRASTIC TRANSFORMATION

3—But the whole war labor employment situation is undergoing drastic transformation. Mr. Howe pointed this out last Tuesday in the house. Substantial reductions have to be made in war output in certain lines, because of over-production. Mr. Mitchell, at the same time, explained how this situation created exceptional employment problems. From now on in this war, labor will face an entirely new set of conditions in war employment. So will the nation as a whole.

4—The rate of production loss because of labor and management troubles has steadily risen in Canada, and it is apparent the no-strike policy is breaking down. Canada is now losing more time proportionately over strikes than Britain or the United States. Number of working days lost through strikes and lockouts per 1,000 industrial workers during the past two years has been:

Canada	200	210
U.S.A.	770	153
Britain	64	91

While the American figure went down sharply when that country got into the war, Canada's figure rose in 1942 and this rise has continued in 1943.

Four Allied Vessels Sunk by Japanese

WASHINGTON, April 10—(AP)—Four Allied vessels, including a destroyer, were sunk as a result of the heavy Japanese air attack on shipping off Guadalcanal Island Wednesday, the Navy department reported yesterday.

The vessels were not identified either as to name or nationality, but since most of the ships operating in the Southeastern Solomons are American it was presumed that most of those lost were American.

(Imperial Tokyo headquarters asserted yesterday that strong Japanese naval and air forces sank an American cruiser, destroyer and 10 transports and damaged three other transports in a Wednesday attack off Guadalcanal. The Japanese claimed their losses were limited to six planes which "crash dived into enemy objectives.")

United Nations Food Meet To Open in U.S. on May 18

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The U.S. State Department announced today that the United Nations food conference would begin May 18 at Hot Springs, Va., coincident with authentic information from other sources that the press will be barred from the conference hotel except for a couple of formal, open meetings.

This is in conformity with President Roosevelt's "hope" that the representatives of the United States and 37 other nations might pursue their negotiations without interruptions by reporters. It is in marked contrast to the assurances given questioners last week by Elmer Davis, director of the U.S. office of war information, that he expected newspaper reporters to have access to the conference hotel.

Today's announcement postponed from April 27 to May 18 the conference meeting with an explanation that transportation of delegates to the United States made the delay necessary.

The state department announcement said that newspaper reporters would be admitted merely to the opening and closing conference sessions. Michael J. McDermott, chief of the department's division of current information, has been designated conference press relations officer.

McDermott will establish press headquarters in Hot Springs, but the conferees will be housed and the meetings will take place in the Homestead, a nearby hotel, from which newspaper and radio representatives will be barred except on the first and last conference days.

OTTAWA, April 10—(CP)—Canada will be represented at the United Nations food conference at Hot Springs, Va., May 18, but the names of the delegates have not been announced.

6 Japanese Planes Destroyed in Raid

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia, April 11—(CP)—Six Japanese planes have been destroyed in a raid on Madang, New Guinea, the high command announced today.

Two bombers and four fighters were destroyed as the Allied raiders fired 63,000 rounds of cannon and machine-gun fire.

Madang is on the north coast of New Guinea, approximately 350 miles northwest of the Allied base at Port Moresby.

Field installations were destroyed on the ground, anti-aircraft positions were silenced and huge fires with heavy explosions were started in the wharf area.

Income Tax Plan For Financing Education Urged

OTTAWA, April 10—(CP)—The abolition of separate schools, and the suggestion an income tax would be a "fairer way" to finance education than a levy upon municipal real estate, are among recommendations contained in a program for post-war education in Canada submitted by a committee of the Ottawa local of the Ontario Men Teachers' Federation.

It suggested that the Dominion government participate in national education by making contributions to the provincial governments and establishing a Dominion bureau of education for research and dissemination.

Ilsley Warns War Situation Is Still Serious

TORONTO, April 10—(CP)—Finance Minister Ilsley appealed here last night for more widespread subscriptions than ever to Canada's fourth Victory loan, opening April 26, and warned Canadians that, although the war news is better, "The situation is extremely serious and we can't slacken our strength."

"Our Russian friends remind us the second front is not yet opened and until it is our greatest battles will be in the future," he told the Toronto committee's inaugural dinner in connection with the loan. Of the $1,100,000,000 sought in the loan Toronto is called upon to raise $238,000,000.

VICTORIES COSTLY

Russian victories had been won at enormous cost, said Mr. Ilsley speaking to leaders of Toronto's industry and finance in a flag-bedecked hotel banquet hall.

"We must make an effort to take the strain off our Russian allies and until that is done we must not feel our position secure."

As further reasons why "We dare not take the chance of going easily in any way," he listed he U-boat campaign and Nazi efforts to strengthen "the fortress of Europe." He presented such a picture because it was necessary at the outset of a loan campangn where every effort was needed.

He stressed that the war could not be fought on the amount collected in taxes alone. This would be just about $2,52,000,000 of the $5,500,000,000 Canada requires this year and of that total nearly $5,000,000,000 is for war purposes.

Much more emphasis must be laid in this loan campaign on subscriptions from other than the large subscribers, he said. The loan would be "a comparative failure unless we are able to obtain more from the general canvas and payrolls than the $375,000,000 in the last loan." The minimum objective this time for these classes was $500,000,000.

Plan Hedgehogs

Nazis' Southern European Defences Behind Schedule

By HARRISON SALISBURY
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin
Copyright, 1943, by British United Press

LONDON, April 10.—Germany appeared today to be planning a vast series of super hedgehogs to defend Europe against invasion but indications were that the Nazis are behind schedule in constructing the barriers on the so-called "soft underside" of the continent.

Where and when the Allies may invade Europe are closely-guarded secrets but Nazi propaganda and reports from the occupied nations gave a pretty good idea of where the Germans think the attack will occur.

The Nazis have spent nearly three years working on the fortifications along the French coast from the Spanish frontier north and east to Belgium. The same work has been put in along Norway's long coastline.

But the fortifications of the French Mediterranean coast were started only in the latter part of November and until recent months Italian fortifications were left to the Italians.

Italy's defences are not believed to be formidable.

Besides improving the airfields of Greece and Crete, the Germans paid little attention to the Balkan and the Greek coast defences before the Allied invasion of Africa. But in the past few months they have installed concrete fortifications along the Yugoslav coast and at such points as Salonika and other places on the Aegean where Allied landings are possible.

More recently they started elaborate defences of the Black Sea ports of Constanza, Bargas and Burgas, where they previously had set up secondary naval bases for defence against the Russians.

Goering's Boys Can't Take It

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NORTH AFRICA, April 10.—(AP)—The most ignominous performance of the once-daring German air force occurred over a central Tunisian sector yesterday, where a formation of 16 Stuka dive-bombers was encountered by Spitfires.

Ten of the Stuka crew members bailed out, some of them even before a shot was fired. Eight of the planes were shot down and four others were damaged.

The rest jettisoned their bombs without carrying out their intended attack on Allied troops.

Allied observers believed the incident indicated a greatly reduced morale among Goering's fliers.

15,000 Pounds of Meat Lost in Fire

WINNIPEG, April 10—(CP)—A fire, which swept through two smoke houses in the Western Packing Company plant here early this morning, destroyed an estimated 15,000 pounds of fresh and cured meat, most of it on contract to the armed forces.

Only five employees were in the plant at the time of the outbreak and all escaped unharmed. Firemen on arriving on the scene found access to the source of the blaze cut off by a wall of burning fats and flames shooting through the roof of the building as high as 20 feet. An hour and a half later the fire was brought under control.

Plant officials said destruction of the meat would cut severely into next week's deliveries to local military establishments as well as the retail butcher trade.

The communique said American and French troops, thrusting toward Kairouan and the sea, seized high ground on the north and south of Fondouk, capturing more than 500 prisoners.

In the north, the British 1st Army rolled up a 10-mile advance and captured 1,000 prisoners in the last four days, the communique added.

House Passes Bill

Grant of Two Dollars Acre On Wheat Lands Converted To Other Crops Continued

OTTAWA, April 10.—(CP)—The House of Commons last night gave third reading to a bill amending the Wheat Acreage Reduction Act. The bill provides for continuation of payment of $2 an acre for wheat land converted to other crops in the crop year 1943-44, but drops additional payments for production of certain crops on this land.

The House in committee rejected an amendment which would have eliminated a clause in the bill requiring a tenant to acknowledge his landlord before payments under the act on a crop share basis can be made.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner said that under the program for the coming crop year $2 an acre will be paid on all wheat acreage that has been reduced as between 1940 and 1943. This meant that if a man had 100 acres in wheat in 1940 and 50 acres in 1943, he would be entitled to $2 an acre on the reduced acreage.

NO GRAIN REQUESTED

No request will be made to sow coarse grains, rye, grass, to summerfallow or do anything in particular with the land taken from wheat production, but if the farmer abandons the land he will receive no payment.

Mr. Gardiner said the wheat acreage reduction measure made provision for payments on rye seeded in 1941 and harvested in 1942 and on grass seeded prior to 1942. The Act of 1942 provided a total of $4 an acre was to be paid for grass and for rye provided these crops replaced acreage previously seeded to wheat.

"This year we are trying to simplify the payments as much as we can," the minister said.

"We are simply stating that we are going to pay $2 an acre on all acreage that has been reduced as between 1940 and 1943, if a man has 100 acres in wheat in 1940 and he has 50 acres in 1943, he would be entitled to a payment of $2 an acre on the reduced acreage.

NO GRANT IF ABANDONED

". . . If he abandons the land he will not be paid. . . . He can sow it to any crop he chooses other than wheat, or he can summerfallow it. In that case he will be paid $2 an acre for the number of acres by which he reduces his acreage."

No provision was made for a second payment on rye or grass in 1944, and this meant the payment would be only $2 an acre on rye or grass.

When first brought down, the wheat acreage reduction policy was not expected to be followed for more than one year.

"There have been so many complications enter into the calculation of the payments in relation to grass and rye that it would be most difficult to continue on from year to year if this measure is going to be necessary for the duration of the war, say for another two or three years," the minister continued.

"Therefore, we are providing for a payment of $2 an acre for every acre that is taken out of wheat but which still is continued in cultivation."

STATEMENT REQUIRED

The bill also provided that in future a landlord would have to make application for a payment under the act before June 31. To have the right to apply he must have a signed statement from the operator of the land to the effect that the operators recognized a certain individual or company as the landlord.

Several members saw legal difficulties in the operation of this clause, and Roy T. Graham (Lib. Swift Current) moved an amendment that the requirement for a tenant's acknowledgement of his landlord be struck out.

Mr. Gardniner said an increase in wheat acreage reduction of between 3,000,000 and 4,000,000 acres was sought this year, and this would mean a total reduction of about 10,000,000 acres. At $2 an acre, the cost to the government would be $20,000,000.

On account of 1941 acreage reduction, total payments were $34,557,200, with Manitoba receiving $4,408,225; Saskatchewan $19,824,841 and Alberta $10,324,134. Total 1942 payments were estimated at $18,704,218.

Knox Reveals Growing Might Of U.S. Navy

INDIANAPOLIS, April 10.—(AP)—The growing might of the United States Navy, with emphasis on airplane carriers and destroyer escorts, was translated into stirring facts and figures by Navy Secretary Frank Knox last night at an Indianapolis rally opening the second war loan campaign.

The Navy in 1943 will complete more new fighting ships—exclusive of non-combatant craft—than there were fighting ships in service at the end of 1942, the naval chief disclosed in his prepared address.

"WORST" LIES AHEAD

He warned that "the worst of this war lies ahead of us, and German under-sea power is an ever-increasing peril."

As for 1943 construction, he said: "The number of warships in the fighting fleet will more than double in a single year.

"The tonnage of new warships completed in 1943 will equal two-thirds of our total tonnage of combatant ships in 1942. In short, the tonnage of the fighting fleet will increase by 66 per cent this year, without allowance for probable battle losses.

"Our efforts this year will be marked by two special accomplishments upon which we have bent energy and all our will—airplane carriers and destroyer escorts. . . .

"The number of carriers, both large and auxiliary, completed in 1943 will multiply many times our total carrier force at the end of 1942.

MANY DESTROYERS

"As for destroyer escorts designed for submarine warfare, the number to be completed in 1943 will be greater than the total number of all destroyers in service on December 31, 1942.

". . . Every one of these vessels is vitally necessary if we are to deal with the schools of submarines which now infest the sea lanes."

Other facts about the 1943 construction program as detailed by the secretary:

A 100 per cent increase in auxiliary vessels, such as tenders, tugs and supply ships; building of thousands of landing craft. Trebling of the number of navy combat aircraft.

"Naval fighter planes will multiply by five. Other combat types, principally observation planes, will decline in importance. But bomber production will be four times the number in the navy air arm at the end of 1942."

A Letter from Home!

When the Northern Alberta Railway's train leaves the C.N.R. depot each day for points north, it is crowded with military personnel and civilian workers heading for war development projects. The above picture shows four young civilian war workers, completely outfitted to stand the rigors of the northern climate, ready to board the train. From left to right they are: W. M. Elwell, Elmhurst, Ill.; F. T. Chinn, St. Louis, Mo.; J. P. Meehan, New York City; and C. W. Warix, Fort Worth, Texas.

Regulations forbid individuals sending newspapers overseas. The Edmonton Bulletin prints the news of the week in letter form. This letter covers the period from April 5 to April 10. Clip it out and send it to your loved ones and friends.

Dear ________________

They're starting to put fancy Easter eggs in the candy store show windows now . . . and all the kiddies in the block are planning what to do with their Easter holidays . . . they get out the day before Good Friday, April 23, and probably won't have to go back until the third of May; hiking clothes and knapsacks are being brought out of the cupboards . . . in fact, from the looks of things, the children aren't going to miss a minute of their holidays.

Monday

First bank manager in Edmonton and known in western banking circles as "the dean of western bankers," George R. F. Kirkpatrick died Sunday in a city hospital. He was 74 years of age. Objective for the people of Alberta in the fourth Victory Loan, which opens on April 26, has been set at $33,000,000. This total is broken down into $22,000,000 from general sales and payrool deductions, with the remaining $11,000,000 to come from special names, non-banking corporations, made up of minimum purchases of $25,000 and over.

Alberta must triple its area of marketable potatoes and other vegetables in 1943, department of agriculture officials said today, warning that coming demands on vegetables will be even greater than last year. In 1942, the sum of $32,000,000 was lost to Alberta farmers, through death of pigs from birth to the time of marketing, according to agriculture department officials. It is estimated the losses may be even greater this year, due to increased hog production, and shortage of experienced labor.

New Canadian Army Basic Training Centre No. 133 will be opened at Wetaskiwin Tuesday by an advance party of nine officers and 100 other ranks. Maj. D. A. Petrie, E.D., of the training centre officers' staff, will be in charge of the advance party.

Tuesday

Spring supplies are being rushed northward by air at an increased tempo to beat the spring breakup on northern rivers and lakes. C.P. Air Lines reported four planes, carrying a total of 32 passenegrs and 2,550 pounds of mail, express and baggage had left Edmonton yesterday for the Mackenzie river district. One official just returned from a trip north said northern Indians predict a late ice break-up this year. There are 678 dogs in Edmonton for which owners have failed to take out licenses. Officials warn that a drive on non-registered canines is to be made immediately.

Criticism of Hon. Humphrey Mitchell's statement that labor conditions in Edmonton and district were "hitting on all six," and that an agreement had been reached concerning the hiring of Canadians by American contracting firms, was expressed by delegates to the Edmonton Trades and Labor Council at a meeting Monday evening. A resolution again protesting the action of the Dominion government in preventing the hiring of Canadian labor by American firms, was unanimously endorsed by the meeting.

Tribute was paid by Carl E. Berg, special representative in western Canada of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, to the Alberta government for the progressive labor legislation placed on the statute books at the recent session of the provincial legislature.

A score of girls were forced from the operating room of the Alberta Government Telephones system exchange when fumes and gasses poured upstairs from the toll terminal room after an acteylene tank exploded and caused a fire of unestimated damage at 3:15 p.m. Monday. Two girls were removed to safety through a window on the second floor. All services between Edmonton and outside points were isolated as well as other districts whose calls are switched through the local office.

Wednesday

Edmonton's first drowning fatality of 1943 occurred Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, when Betty, 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Zeigler, 12690 72 street, lost her life in the fast-flowing, high-running waters of a ditch on 73 street, between 126 and 127 avenues. Prominent in the Presbyterian church in Canada which he served from the time he was first called in 1902 until his retirement in 1941, Dr. Frank Douglas Roxburgh died suddenly at his home on Tuesday. He was 71 years old.

One of the most contentious recommendations ever to come before the Edmonton Public School Board, that of giving religious instruction in the schools, was passed at the Tuesday meeting of the Board by a vote of four to two. Negotiations will be commenced with Ottawa authorities for permission to build a new two-storey building for the Forest Heights school, the School Board decided.

The strong sunshine of the last two days may have been extremely enjoyable to most Edmontonians, but to the staff of the city engineer's department and residents on the St. Albert trail near 116 avenue, and in the 124 street and 116 avenue district, it proved the cause of considerable work and inconvenience. Run-off water from territory in these districts Tuesday night flooded the St. Albert trail in the vicinity of 116 avenue for more than two blocks, and also flooded a two-block area on 124 street in the same district.

Thursday

Power production in Edmonton's power plant during the period Jan. 1 to April 4, was 17.3 per cent. greater than in the corresponding period last year, when 22,975,900 kilowatt hours were generated. The output during the 1943 period under review was 26,854,200. First rain since spring officially arrived fell today, and two short showers brought a slight amount of precipitation.

Traffic over the Canadian National Railways this year may exceed the record year of 1942, George R. Fairhead, Montreal, general freight traffic manager, stated on his arrival here today. Edmonton's building permit total was boosted by $925,000 Thursday, when the North West Division, United States Engineers, took out a permit for construction work done on the Jesuit College site on the St. Albert trail.

Along the sports trail: With Don Grosso performing the "hat trick," Detroit Red Wings shut out Boston Bruins 4-0 last night before 14,800 in Boston Gardens in their third Stanley Cup final series. Detroit now leads three games to nil. Bill Cowley, play-making wizard of Boston Bruins, was named last night as the winner of the Dr. David A. Hart trophy for the most valuable player to his club in the N.H.L. during the 1942-43 season.

Friday

All premises licensed for selling beer in Edmonton, Calgary and Drumheller have been instructed to restrict sales in such a way that a small supply at least will be available to customers during the hours the premises are open to the public, J. A. King, chairman of the Alberta Liquor Control Board, announced Friday. "This will effectively control the distribution and avoid over-indulgence," he stated.

Immediate purchase by the city of Edmonton of road maintenance equipment, if priorities can be obtained, to take care of work on Edmonton streets is urged by a special committee of the Chamber of Commerce in a brief submitted to city commissioners. It is pointed out that the condition of the paved roads in the city is extremely bad, and that in wet weather many of the secondary roads will be impassable unless the city has the necessary equipment to properly take care of maintenance.

Reg. T. Rose, executive secretary of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, will head the Edmonton Rotary club in 1943, it was announced by retiring president W. Bruce. Radio station CKUA, the station of the University of Alberta, is asking the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation for a commercial license. The station was expanded in 1941, when a new $30,000 transmitter unit was installed.

Curtailment of gasoline supply and severe weather conditions were reflected in the increase in street railway traffic during the first three months of 1943 and patronage in the period totalled 7,529,326 compared with 5,078,301 for the same period last year, an increase of 2,451,025, or the equivalent of 48 per cent. Chief of Police Mat Blackwood states that his department is clamping down on juveniles who are on the streets at night, contrary to the city curfew by-law.

Back from a highly successful tour of United States Army camps along the Alaska highway and the Alaskan war theatre proper, a U.S.O. troupe of entertainers, headed by the famed vaudeville comedian, Bert Wheeler, will perform for entertainment of Canadian servicemen and servicewomen and U.S. forces at he arena of No. 3 "M" Depot, R.C.A.F. here Sunday evening.

Detroit Red Wings captured the famed Stanley Cup Thursday night in Boston by eliminating Boston's Bruins in the fourth game of the series 2 to nil. The Wings swept the final playoffs in four straight games. Winnipeg Rangers edged out Saskatoon last night by a 3-2 score and captured the western Canada junior hockey championship. Winnipeg will now meet the winners of the Oshawa Generals-Montreal Canadiens series for the Dominion title.

Saturday

A. R. McLennan, widely-known business man and former member of the Alberta legislature, died at his home. In addition to being a leading business man and a legislator, he had served as a member of the city council and was an elder and member of the session of Central United church.

An instructor and a pupil were killed in a crash at the Penhold air training centre. Their names have not been released, pending notification of next-of-kin.

The Canadian Legion held a smoker and concert at the Memorial hall last night to commemorate the 26th anniversary of the capture of Vimy Ridge. Legionnaires marched from the Memorial hall to the Cenotaph and laid a wreath thereon. On the stage of the hall was erected a cross with a steel helmet resting on top, in memory of the Glorious Dead, while at the back were the crossed flags of Great Britain and the United States.

The sun is shining and indications are that "it's a lovely day tomorrow."

That's all for now. Best of everything until next week.

The Dominion to Help

The Dominion is going to lend a hand to the development of what are called "marginal" oil sites in Alberta. This is explained as territory on the fringe of the Turner Valley field, and perhaps elsewhere, where it is believed oil can be found, but where the prospect has not been tested sufficiently to induce active drilling operations. Broadly, the purpose evidently is to find out whether and how far known deposits may extend.

The Government is not going into the oil business. But a Crown company is being created whose function will be to finance drilling and speed up development. As the headquarters of the company is to be in Calgary, the Turner Valley field is apparently the area in which it will become immediately active. Since that is not the only part of Alberta where oil has been found, there will no doubt be demands for its helpful services in other known oil areas of the province.

Curbing the Fear Factor

It is good news for Canada that a ceiling has been placed on prices and wages in the United States. Holding economic conditions here in balance has been made much more difficult because corresponding control measures were not in effect across the boundary. Steadily mounting price schedules there increased the cost of goods imported into the Dominion, and the rising wage scales naturally caused discontent on this side of the line.

In neither country are prices and wages absolutely "frozen". Wage adjustments are allowable in the case of under-paid employees, and price adjustments where the producing cost demands. But in both the national authority is now to be actively employed to prevent an upward spiral getting under way. People in both countries can therefore calculate with more certainty what it will cost them to live months ahead, and with assurance that the cost will not rise drastically. Fear of rising prices will no longer be the factor it has been in impelling wage-earners to clamor for higher pay.

Why the Tie-Ups?

The causes of labor troubles in Canada are to be investigated at hearings in Ottawa next week. The object is to find out why strikes, strike threats and absenteeism have been growing more common of late, and to bring about a cessation of the interruption of essential production caused by these factors. All persons interested in the labor situation are invited to attend the hearings, and the inquiry will cover "any matters related to the complete and effective organization of industry and labor for the furtherance of the war effort."

An investigation of the kind is overdue. For whatever reasons, the stoppage of work—even in plants directly producing vital war needs—has been increasingly frequent. Most if not all these interruptions have been illegal in wartime, but they have occurred in many parts of the country, some in very large establishments, and they have been getting more numerous. It is high time for a showdown. The public have put millions of dollars into war plants and are subscribing billions of dollars to keep these going. They have a right to expect that the plants will run at full blast all the time, since the supplies are needed. But the plants are not doing so. Those who foot the bills should know why.

Buy the Machines

After the experience of the past winter, no one will be surprised that the City Engineer's department wants to buy some equipment to keep the streets passable should those conditions repeat in future winters. And since such equipment can be used to grade and maintain roads in summer as well as to remove snow in winter, the public will the more readily approve the idea.

Our dirt roadways and gravelled streets were in bad condition last summer. They will be in worse shape this summer unless conditioning operations are started as early as possible and carried on actively. This work can only be done rapidly and economically by the use of road machinery of the right types and sufficient amount.

The time has gone by when the streets could be neglected in the supposed interests of economy. They now have to carry more traffic, and heavier vehicles, than ever before. They will be subjected in the coming months to far harder wear and tear than last summer. To neglect them would mean that by fall many of these thoroughfares would be such in name only.

The equipment needed, useable in winter and summer, would, it is said, cost about $40,000. That will be a small price to pay for machinery to keep the streets conditioned in summer and free of snow in winter. So far from hesitating to make the outlay, the city council might better take the advice of the Chamber of Commerce and buy rather more machines than the Engineer asks for. The better because under the priorities arrangement the city may not be able to get the full number requested. To ask for only the minimum equipment might result in getting something less; and the Engineer's figures are the minimum that could meet the situation.

Southern Italy is said to be in a state of high excitement at the prospect of invasion. The excitement, it may be suspected, is strongly tinged with anticipation on the part of a large proportion of the inhabitants. The coming of the Allies is their one hope of getting a square meal, to say nothing about getting rid of the political bullies who have bankrupted them in a war they did not want.

—V—

A count-up of the daily reports shows that the luftwaffe lost more than a thousand planes in the air between March 18th and April 5th over western Europe, Russia and Africa, while in Africa alone it lost between 200 and 300 on the ground. Allied losses for the same period are given as 597. If the figures are anywhere near the mark Hitler has fewer planes now than he had a month ago, while the Allies have more than they had then.

—V—

Delayed credit is now being given to the American forces which fought their way through the mountains to join the 8th Army. Fearing that his road of retreat would be cut, Rommel massed tanks and artillery against these flanking troops in the defiles and rough country they had to traverse. Their comrades of the 8th Army are now paying well deserved tribute to the resolution and skill with which these troops made headway against the enemy guns and tanks.

—V—

General Eisenhower says the Allies "Are now in a position to exact the full price from the enemy confronting us in Africa". The meaning of this can only be that the Axis troops are facing complete destruction as a fighting force, with annihilation or surrender their ultimate alternatives. A Dunkirk evacuation is ruled out, since they would thus escape paying the "full price". The commander-in-chief would not of course make so positive a statement unless certain that the enemy can neither hold out nor get out.

The God of my rock; in him will I trust: he is my shield, and the horn of my salvation, my high tower, and my refuge, my saviour; thou savest me from violence.—II Samuel 22:3.

And thus to journey on!—Longfellow.

A British Padre and Canucks

By FLT. LIEUT. JOHN CLARE

An English chaplain who was one of the best loved padres ever attached to an R.C.A.F. squadron in Great Britain, is now in Tunisia. He is S/L D. G. Brook, M.C.

S/L Brook is the Protestant padre at a forward R.A.F. airfield in North Africa, but in Great Britain he was chaplain to the bomber squadron formerly commanded by W/C John Twigg and now led by W/C W. D. (Tiny) Ferris of Edmonton.

All winter and through the spring and early summer he lived with the boys from Canada while they helped to carry the war to targets in the Ruhr and other parts of Germany. Every night they went out raiding he was down at the field to see them off and while they were away on their long and dangerous mission he would wait for them in the interrogation room.

Sometimes when the day had been long and busy the padre dozed off despite the hard bench on which he lay. The home-coming aircrews would shake him gently by the shoulder. "Wake up, padre. We are back" they would say. Then there would be a good-natured laugh at him "having fallen asleep on the job."

Every night he was there with a package of cigarettes handy and a big smile and a cheery word for the bomber crews just back.

When a crew did not come back the padre wrote letters to their people back in Canada. Out of these letters written in sadness that he felt as only one who loved the boys he lived with could feel, there grew correspondence with fathers and mothers in Canada.

"I have a book with me with the names of all the boys in that squadron. I have the raids they did and all the decorations they received, noted as well. And I have the names of all those who didn't come back. That book is one of my most valued possessions," said the padre recently.

He talked for an hour of the lads. "You remember Dave Williams — he got the D.F.C. — and 'Pinky' Metheral (of Edmonton, he got the D.F.C. too), and 'Sandy' Sanderson?", he asked a Canadian officer who had known the squadron. "What a grand bunch of fellows they were," he said.

"It's not the same out here," he carried on, "the boys are so widely dispersed and you don't have the same opportunity to live with them and get to know them like members of your own family."

"Last Sunday I held five services with a communion after each one. Every day in the week I am holding services. On Sunday evening we had 120 chaps at a service in a stable. There was another service in the open in the morning at an anti-aircraft gun site.

"I find that wherever I go the fellows out here, where life is stripped of its civilized trappings, are looking for the basic things, the real things. Religion is one of them. To me it proves what I have always known, that man is fundamentally religious."

The padre said these words at a forward airfield amid a flight of Spitfires just back from a job. As the pilots saw him they waved friendly greetings and took one of his cigarettes. There is no nervous shuffling of feet and murmurs of "Look out, here comes the devil chaser" when S/L Brook visits a squadron. He has the biggest smile and the biggest circle of friends of almost any man in North Africa.

The padre knows a bit about what it is like up front himself. He was a fighting man in the last war in the infantry, enlisting as a private and ending up with a lieutenant's commission.

"How about that Military Cross," he was asked.

"Well you see there was a lot of fighting at Passchendaele —" He shrugged his shoulders and that was the non-committal answer to that.

It was not until after the war that he entered the ministry of the Methodist church. His last charge before the war was at Bradford, Yorkshire, and the R.C.A.F. bomber squadron was his first operational post after entering the chaplains' service of the Royal Air Force. He is 47.

He would like to go to Canada after the war and meet again the boys from the bomber squadron. He would like to meet as well, people to whom he has written after a boy has gone missing. He would like to tell them himself what he will tell you today if he gets talking about "the squadron"—and it's one of his favorite conversations—what a great bunch of guys they were.

Housewives, U-Boats

FROM THE TORONTO STAR

Not enough housewives realize it, but Allied U-boat operations depend upon their efforts. U-boat stalkers need shells, compasses, steering gear, protective coatings for their weapons. Fats are needed for the manufacture of this equipment and fats are what the housewife can contribute. Every bit of cooking fat that is wasted or thrown away is an act of disservice to our fighting men. Every bit of fat that is wasted or thrown away makes the burdens and the dangers of war that much heavier to bear for the fighting men.

The national salvage director has issued an appeal to save at least 35,000,000 pounds of fat a year. This can be done, according to estimate, if one ounce per person is saved each week. This will remove the danger of a shortage of fats for Canada's war plants.

SIDE GLANCES

"Yes, spring is mighty pretty here, especially when you think of those cities in Europe torn up by bombs!"

Medals for Farmers

Editor, Bulletin: It seems that the talk of giving medals to war workers just will not die a decent death. It is true that "war workers" are necessary for winning the war, but without the farmer we would not only lose the war but starve to death in the bargain.

As the farmer generally works harder for his remuneration and with less horn-blowing, he should get a similar medal with a couple of bars added.

We should also remember street car operators, housewives, etc.

Lotus-Eater Land

Editor, Bulletin: The Gulf of Gabes, scene of naval activity, has the captured city of Gabes on its shore and across the gulf lies the island of Jerba or Djerba, the legendary land of the lotus-eaters.

Belonging to French Tunisia it had, at least up to the outbreak of war, characteristics similar to those described in ancient lore.

Its palm trees still wave, we hope, its white beach glistens, its flaming hibiscus gives high color and the lotus flower or lavender crocus blooms by the million.

When peace returns to this war-mad world may Lotus Land and such ideal spots remain to act as a balm of healing.

Farm Labor Plan

Editor, Bulletin: In The Bulletin I read that we are going to be short of green vegetables, etc., due to lack of help on the farms. I have also noticed other articles recently about the shortage of help on the farms for the planting of seeds, etc., and of course these conditions will still exist in the Fall when it comes time to harvest all crops.

As a suggestion to help remedy this shortage, why not ask all city workers (store employees, industrial and office workers) to volunteer their services during their annual vacation?

A government agency could register these volunteers and the weeks or months that they will be having their holidays. When each volunteer comes to his holiday let the government pay his (or her) travelling expenses to wherever he is needed. Let the farmer provide board and decent living accommodation.

The worker will get no pay but will benefit because he gets a change from his usual job and gets some real healthy country air. The farmer will get his peak work done (hay time; harvest time, etc.) by providing room and board. The government will get more food for our country and our Allies, by providing transportation, at the same time stopping long distance travelling; all adding up to futhering our war effort.

JUST A THOUGHT.

Farm Income

Editor, Bulletin: Here are some of the statements made by the Hon. Mr. Ilsley in his latest budget speech dealing with the distribution of income in Canada. I quote from Hansard No. 24, Page 875; he said: "The increases (speaking of personal income) by and large have gone to those who have needed them most. But we have reached the point when the demands of some labor representatives and of some farm representatives cannot both be satisfied. Ability to resolve group difference is the decisive test of democracy. Nothing will frustrate our striking forces so much as internecine strife over economic and financial advantage."

With regard to Mr. Ilsley's statement dealing with the above test for democracy, most of us will, I feel, agree very heartily. That is one of the greatest responsibilties of any citizenship relationship. The other contentions of the minister are more open to question, however.

It is another very immediate and important responsibility of democracy to take such action as will intelligently bring to the attention of those with governing authority the need, the requirements, and the injustice suffered by certain economic groups in the nation. That is democracy in action. It need not be and should not be "internecine strife," in any way, shape or form.

When the minister says "The demands of some labor representatives and some farm representatives cannot both be satisfied," he is condoning a condition which strikes at the very basis of our demacratic way of life. I am not dealing with his contention with regard to labor. That group can very well speak on its own behalf.

When we come to the farmer, however, here is what the minister is condoning. We are over 35 per cent of the people of Canada, according to the findings of our friends the statisticians, and we are receiving less than 15 per cent of the total income of the whole of Canada. In times past we have received less than seven per cent. As long as that condition prevails the organized farmers of Canada will continue to press for an adjustment for this glaring injustice, an adjustment which is long overdue.

To the minister of finance, to the government of Canada, and to all the rest of the people of Canada, the organized farmers would recall the immortal words of John Bright when he said: "Doing justice to one class cannot inflict injustice on any other class and justice and impartiality to all is what we all have a right to from the government; and we have a right to clamour; and so long as I have breath, so long will I clamor against the oppression which I see to exist and in favor of the rights of the great body of the people." The United Farmers of Alberta most emphatically emphasize those words which are as true today as on that memorable occasion when they were first uttered.

Fashions for Round-the-Clock

Ways Suits Can Be Varied Make Them Appealing

By MARY ALICE QUAYNE

If you have been a "meeter and greeter" recently, that is one who has the pleasure of greeting incoming or outgoing friends at the railway stations, you will have noticed that the clothes of the travelers are practical. We can all profit from their example.

To conserve the budget and the baggage, many traveling outfits are assembled piece by piece, so that they can be worn interchangeably.

Plan a basic wardrobe that can be extended by the addition of a few blouses or other accessories.

The one thing that makes a suit so appealing is the way in which it can be varied. With blouses and hats enough to give it many changes, a good suit can be easily extended into a spring wardrobe. Basically this means three proper accessory changes — one for run-around and business, one for afternoon and informal wear and a third for dressup occasions. To do this requires neither a large purse nor a great deal of shopping time. It does impose imagination and a good color sense.

It is a year for blouses, so selection is easy. The stores here in Edmonton have available a tempting selection that ranges from the simplest shirts for business to gayly ruffled whimsies for dinner and dancing.

At a time like this when many women are in uniform and their only change for dress is a crisp shirt, the civilian, too, considers a change of blouse enough to carry her suit through the evening.

New Shirt Styles

When women want to look feminine they turn naturally to suits and blouses topped with pretty hats. And because we have so many luscious fabrics available, there are a dozen and one ways to get exciting combinations. For instance, the rayon sheers have made possible a whole group of pretty blouses.

Then, too, the spun rayons tailor beautifully into shirt blouses with a new richness. For spring one of the favorites is crisp rayon taffeta used to make frilled shirts topped with large pussy-cat bows.

Rayon jersey is another of the new luxurious fabrics that combine well with a slim dark suit skirt and transform it into a two-piece dress. This fabric is especially appealing when used in a shirred or surplice-draped blouse that hugs the figure.

Team Blouse and Hat

Designers have concentrated on giving us flattering lines and have used many interesting new fabrics, including such familiar ones as seersucker, cotton shirting, corded cotton and pique.

In order that your blouse may tell a dramatic story and tie your suit to the hour of the day, choose your hat to harmonize with your blouse. It need not be of the same fabric, nor subscribe to any such obvious trick of matching, but its lines and trimming should be in character with the blouse.

With a tailored shirt blouse, for example, a trim straw sailor in the same color does nicely. For afternoon hours when a softer blouse is chosen, a large hat or one with not too elaborate trimming nicely complements the occasion. For more formal moments from 5 o'clock onward, the same dressy hats worn with short-length evening dresses can be used for suits.

Simplicity Returning

The woman who wants one good costume or dress to wear for the duration will approve the new trend to simpler lines. Simplicity has brought back such favorites as the shirt-front dress, the bolero suit, the costume ensemble with plain wool coat over print dress, the short jacket suit, and the side-wrapped skirt finished with details that are definitely new this season, such as lower waistlines, soft fullness caught into the front of the skirt, multi-button trimming, and wide diagonal closings, in surplice bodice effects.

Navy blue and black are favorite colors, occasionally spiced with a dramatic pastel like lime green or turquoise. The red suit with a "brick tone" brings in another new shade for spring; while beige and grey-green are lovely in both soft suits and dresses.

The ruffled edge, the tied bow, lace trimming dyed to match pastel fabrics, and occasionally a touch of bead embroidery are some of the trimmings used. Buttons are used functionally and then extended as trimming, so that they become a part of the dress.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON.—Cabinet members who talked with Foreign Minister Anthony Eden during his visit were more impressed with his vision and grasp of world problems for peace than those of any other British statesman who has been here in years. Churchill has never seemed to worry much about peace, concentrated on winning the war.

Drew Pearson

Eden, however, had one great worry. He didn't say so outright, because every British diplomat remembers the Sackville-West incident in 1838 when a British minister was recalled from Washington for favoring the election of Grover Cleveland. However, reading between the lines of Eden's conversation one could see that he was definitely worried over the possibility of an isolationist Republican victory which might scuttle the peace after the war.

This was one reason he took such pains to talk to leading Republicans.

One or two Administration leaders, incidentally, did not allay his fears. They took a very frank view, to the effect that the political situation was bad, and told Eden that a Democratic Administration would have a tough time being re-elected.

British-Russ Alliance

To get the full significance of Eden's conversations it is important to remember that before 1940 the pillar of British foreign policy was close co-operation between the British Navy and the French army. The French were to dominate the continent and the British the high seas.

To strengthen this, the French had built up a series of alliances, or buffer states—Czechoslovakia, Poland, Jugoslavia, Rumania. But when Hitler chopped out the weakest link, Czechoslovakia, the entire structure fell, and with it the French army.

It is no secret, therefore, that Britain, since the fall of France, needs a new ally in Europe and that new ally will be—in fact already is—Russia.

That is the most important point to keep in mind about Eden's conversations here. That is one reason why the British frankly told us that they will handle European matters, and that all questions of future boundaries of European states, especially those like Poland, Rumania and the Baltic states bordering Russia, must be left until after the war. Also the clear indication is that Russia and Britain can settle these problems.

Another argument to that end is that the State Department, because of Polish, Slav, Baltic minority groups in this country, is under political pressure, and can expeditiously pass the buck to England, keeping hands off completely.

Wants Us to Join

The British-Russian alliance, however, is not secret. The United States has been urged to join, and Eden even hopes that the President will soon send an outstanding statesman to Moscow.

Russia, it was quite clear from the Eden conversations, is a country which cannot be ignored in peace any more than in war.

This was probably the number one conclusion of the Eden visit. Number two conclusion was that world peace can be maintained only by a military alliance of Britain, the United States, Russia and perhaps China, almost identical to the military alliance proposed by Woodrow Wilson but rejected by the die-hard isolationists in the U.S. Senate.

In other words instead of hemming and hawing over League sanction against Manchuria, this military alliance would have acted first and talked afterwards. In other words also, after twenty years and two wars we are back where we were before the die-hards killed Woodrow Wilson's dream of peace.

Bombs for Hitler

NEW YORK TIMES

The giant block-buster bomb is a black and ugly object, eight feet four inches long, two feet one inch thick. About 2,200 of its 4,000 pounds are TNT and newer, secret explosives, the rest are shell and fuses. Dropped from 20,000 feet, it hits the ground at a speed of almost 600 miles an hour. It pulverizes whatever it strikes and buries itself deep.

Then it explodes. The blast lasts three one-hundredths of a second. First there is a tremendous outward pressure of hot gas, expanding at almost seven times the 1,089 feet a second sound travels. That lasts five one-thousandths of a second. Then the gas cools, contracts, sucks everything back. That lasts twenty-five one-thousandths of a second.

The bomb case shatters into more than 6,000 fragments that fly at 4,000 to 7,000 feet a second, may spray for 7,000 feet. The explosion itself will smash everything within 120 feet of the bomb. Ground tremors may cause brick walls blocks away to collapse.

Very Good Advice

An East London man who had been advised by his solicitor upon the matter of making everything over to his wife in case he got killed in an air raid, later wrote to his legal adviser thus: "Dear Sir,—Having as you advised put all my possessions in my wife's name, regret to say I now have no money to pay you for your services."

TODAY'S MESSAGE

By CANON R. H. A. HASLAM

God Is Dead!—Is God Dead?

Many today are asking, "If there is a God, why does He not intervene to stop the war?" But thousands are living as though there were no God.

The Question

Have you heard the great news that God is dead?
The old world is now without any head.
We'll live and we'll die without any dread,
Since we're certain that God is dead.

Oh, isn't it grand that God is dead?
No longer need we by conscience be led;
We can live as we like and nought be said,
For the One we called God is dead.

What a comfort it is that God is dead!
On Sundays we now can enjoy our bed,
Go touring or golfing—or any path tread;
God is silent, so must be dead.

And then, since we know that God is dead,
No prayers unto Him need ever be said,
No morals be heeded, no Bible read
To learn of the One who is dead.

If God were alive, if He were not dead,
Would the blood of nations be running red,
Crushed out by the heel of the tyrants' tread?
Why, certainly God must be dead.

The Answer

God can be silent without being dead;
E'en though He is silent, be not misled;
He will not restrain; He waiteth instead
For our faith, now seemingly dead.

But sinner, awake! Our God is not dead.
For though, like the ostrich, you bury your head,
And deaden your conscience, and plunge ahead
In sin, yet our God is not dead.

Though you live your life as if God were dead—
Live in sin, for self, without any dread
Of the wrath of God, which rests on the head
Of sinners—yet God is not dead.

Yes, sinner! He lives, whom you treat as dead.
He loves you; He gave His Son in your stead,
Whose most precious blood for you has been shed;
Oh, trust Him, for He is not dead.

There are not many Edmonton residents who have not heard Fibber McGee and Molly's overloaded cupboard spill out its contents on the hapless head of some unsuspecting person. Don't let your cupboard get in that state. Call the United Church Goodwill Mission at 21283 and let them call and pick up your overflow of clothing, furniture or anything for which you have no further use.

"Are Sin, Disease and Death Real" is the subject of the lesson-sermon at all Christian Science churches on Sunday. The Golden Text is Psalms 67:1,2. One of the Scriptural citations is "Zion shall be redeemed with judgment, and her converts with righteousness" (Isaiah 1:27). One of the correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, is "We acknowledge God's forgiveness of sin in the destruction of sin and the spiritual understanding that casts out evil as unreal. But the belief in sin is punished so long as the belief lasts" (p. 497).

Guest preacher on Sunday morning at the Edmonton Pentecostal Tabernacle will be Will J. Green of Toronto, president of the Gideons. In the evening the pastor, A. M. Mallory will speak on "What Does It Cost Not to Be a Christian?" On the same day a special young people's campaign will begin and will continue until Sunday, April 25. Services will be held each Sunday at 11:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Each week day, with the exception of Monday there will be a service at 8 p.m. There will be special music and singing each night.

Don't sigh when you review your cupboards and attics and view all the discarded clothing, furniture and the dozens of other articles that have accumulated during the last year. Call the Salvation Army at 26875 and its can will call and pick up anything for which you have no further use. Clothing, rags, magazines, newspapers and furniture are equally acceptable.

St. Stephen's church will commence services on Sunday with Holy Communion which will be celebrated at 8 a.m. This will be followed by a Sung Eucharist at 11:00 a.m., while Evensong will take place at 7:30 p.m. The rector is the Rev. Canon J. C. Matthews.

The Rev. Alfred Bright, B.A., B.D., of Grace Presbyterian church, Calgary, will be the guest preacher at First Presbyterian church on Sunday morning. Topic of his sermon will be "The Decisive Things By Which We Live." Anthem in the morning will be "O For a Closer Walk with God". Soloists in the morning will be Mrs. D. McKechnie and Arnold Murray, while in the evening the soloist will be Miss C. Hollingworth. At the morning service at St. Andrew's the Rev. H. Douglas Stewart will preach on "Living Stones". In the evening his topic will be "To the Disheartened". At Strathcona the minister, the Rev. Peter Fisher will deliver a farewell service. This will be followed by a baptismal service. At Westmount the Rev. H. O. T. Burkwall, secretary of the Northern Alberta branch of the British and Foreign Bible society, will speak at the morning service. Divine worship will be held at Rupert Street church at 11 a.m. with the Rev. Wm. Simons delivering the sermon.

Whatever happens in the period of this war, be it long or short, before victory in arms is achieved there must be preparation for such an output of Scriptures as will be needed for the education, or re-education of the nations in the principles of righteousness, peace, truth and mercy. "It is with an armed doctrine that we are at war," cried Burke, in the early days of the Napoleonic struggle—an utterance even more relevant to this present conflict. Its overthrow will prove temporary unless there can be implanted in the heart of humanity the ideals which accompany the acceptance of the Gospel of Christ. These forever destroy all the conceptions of what Burke once called "geograjhical morality", which has been the bane of many peace settlements of the past. Thus, support of the Bible Society is lifted to the plane of international necessity, and its progress becomes part of the Christian's world responsibility.

"The Blessed Dead!" will be the subject of the sermon to be delivered on Sunday evening at the Seventh Day Adventist church by the Evangelist R. A. Hubley, who will speak also on the "Bloom of Immortality in Christ".

Young people will figure in the service at McDougall church on Sunday evening when a Lenten season young people's service will be held. Four young people will take part with the minister, the Rev. A. K. McMinn in the conduct of worship and in the rendering of special musical numbers. The Young People's Fireside Hour will follow the service and will be addressed by Flt. Lt. Wallace McClean. The pre-Easter communion service will be held on Sunday morning, and there will be a reception of new members. The minister will be in charge and will be assisted by the members of the session.

"A Song of Praise" will be the subject of a sermon to be delivered at Central Lutheran church Sunday morning by the pastor, the Rev. Milton Johnson. The evening service, commencing at 7:30 p.m. will be in charge of the Young People's Luther League. On Wednesday there will be Bible study and prayer commencing at 8 p.m.

Members of the W.M.S., the Evening Auxiliary and the Mission Circle will unite in a missionary service Sunday morning at Metropolitan United church when the minister, the Rev. R. M. Thompson will preach. Duettists will be Miss Audrey Hainstock and J. Irving Gish. In the afternoon the first of a series of pleasant Sunday functions for the members of the armed forces will commence at 3 p.m. Supper will be served by women of the church. Soldiers, sailors and airmen are invited to attend the evening services when part of the musical program will consist of numbers by the Welsh Male Voice choir.

With Sunday the second in the month, choral communion will be celebrated at St. Matthew's church, Riverdale, with the Rev. Canon J. C. Matthews in charge. The service will commence at 9:15 a.m.

This Sunday, which is Passion Sunday, services at All Saints Cathedral will commence with the celebration of Holy Communion at 8:30. At 11 a.m. there will be a Sung Eucharist and sermon, the latter to be delivered by the rector, the Rev. Canon A. M. Trendell. Evensong and a sermon will commence at 7:30 p.m., the subject of the sermon being "As We Forgive." Anthem in the evening will be "O Saving Victim." On Wednesday commencing at 8 p.m. there will be evensong and an address.

At Holy Trinity church on Sunday holy communion services will commence at 8:30 a.m. This will be followed by morning prayer at 11 a.m. when the anthem will be "Doth Not Wisdom Cry". At evensong the anthem will be "Lord For Thy Tender Mercies Sake". The rector, the Rev. W. M. Nainby will preach at both services. On Wednesday at 8 p.m. there will be a Lenten service with the Rev. Arthur Murphy in charge.

The Edmonton Fundamental Baptist church will hold its regular morning and evening services on Sunday, April 11 at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m., respectively in the Central Masonic Temple, 10318 100 avenue. Acting Pastor Arthur D. Cornell will be in charge. At 8:45 a.m. the Sunday School and adult Bible class will meet; the Bible class will be broadcast over C.F.R.N. at 10 o'clock.

Ukrainians in Canada are asking for Bibles. Since 1869 the Bible has been printed in their language. Since 1918 the printing has been carried on outside their own country. Now the source of supply has been stopped. No Ukrainian Bibles are obtainable in Canada.

Humble Snail Has Counterpart

Take Houses Right Along

In Home-Toting North Truckers

GRANDE PRAIRIE—The snail isn't the only creature that travels with the house on his back these days. He has his human counterpart in the men who go north to work on the Alaska Highway. Neither love nor money will buy the trucker a place whereon to lay his weary head when he arrives at Dawson Creek, B.C., to load up for Fort Nelson or maybe Fairbanks.

There just isn't a bed to be had in that feverish, bloated little town at the end of steel into which hundreds of truckers pour daily and nightly, worn out from their strenuous trips north. What little space there might have been a year ago has long since been snatched up by the personnel and workers of the construction companies located there. So the truckers bring their houses with them and deposit them singly or conglomerately on every vacant spot in the harassed little town.

MEDLEY OF SHELTERS

Such a medley of shelters—for not all of them could be dignified by the name of house—have passed through here in the past few months headed for Dawson Creek. Uprooted granaries, snug garages, cook cars and bunk houses and neat little cabins all have been hauled up the highway in the wake of a tractor or truck. A few custom-built trailers have sailed disdainfully through mud or dust like pedigreed dogs led by proud dowagers. But mostly the homes on wheels are homemade and belong to that new aristocracy of travel, the only men who can get the gas and tires on which to travel north today—the workers on the Alaska Highway.

But it is not only at the end of steel that truckers have difficulty getting bed or board. Most of the hauling is from Edmonton now and there is no adequate arrangement for the men on that long 500 mile haul. Grande Prairie too is crowded far beyond its capacity with men from many war projects, their wives and families.

SLEEP IN CAB

Often the truckers have been forced to spend the night curled up in the truck cab, parked on some street while light and warmth shone from nearby homes, or to beg a floor in some cold garage on which to lie indoors. Often they could not obtain ever a hot cup of coffee at night as all the restaurants, unble to obtain help, have been closing at 9 p.m. The town council is taking up the matter of trying to have one restaurant remain open all night if possible, but has no present prospect of a place where the men may sleep before tackling that last lap to Dawson Creek.

Famous Names Quilt Coming Here on May 27

The "Margaret Bishop Famous Names Quilt" will be exhibited in Edmonton from May 27 to June 1, it was announced Saturday by the Edmonton R.C.A.F. Ladies' Auxiliary. The quilt, which will be on exhibit in The T. Eaton Company Western Ltd. store is being displayed from coast to coast in Canada in Eaton stores, under auspices of local Air Force Auxiliaries, all of which will share in proceeds of the quilt.

The quilt was started in June, 1941, by Mrs. W. A. Bishop, wife of Air Marshal W. A. Bishop, V.C., D.S.O., M.C., as a money-raising project for the Ottawa Air Force Officers' Wives Association. Squares of cotton were distributed to various members of the association with a view to having autographs written on them, the writers making a contribution to the funds of the association, the names subsequently embroidered, and the squares finally pieced into a quilt.

The project grew in scope as signatures of notables were secured. Most treasured of squares is that which flew back from England with Air Marshal Bishop. Topped by the name Winston Churchill, it also bears the signatures "Clementine Churchill", "Sholto Douglas", "Brendan Bracken" "Averill Harriman", and the legend "Chequers, October 1942".

FAMOUS NAMES

Princess Juliana and Prince Bernhard are there, their names topped by delicately embroidered Netherlands crowns. Two squares went up to Ottawa's Capitol Hill and came back covered with autographs any collector would envy—including that of Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

Another went down to Washington, and is centred by the graceful signature of Eleanor Roosevelt. Heads of the army, navy and air force, have joined forces on yet another. One square found its way to Callander, Ont., and has the carefully printed signatures of the Dionne quintuplets raying out from autographs of their parents and doctors.

Hollywood and Broadway are well represented, including autographs of the late Carole Lombard and May Robson. The caste of "Captains of the Clouds" contributed a whole square, as did Paul Muni and the cast of "The Commandos Strike at Dawn."

EXPERT PICTURES

Pictures, expertly needled, are an added note of interest—a Walt Disney square, with Mickey in an air force blue boater hat; Soglow's "Little King", Caspar Milquetoast; "Terry" of Pirates fame, and Ham Fisher's Joe Palooka. Centreing the quilt is the air force crest—magnificently embroidered by Mrs. Bishop herself.

Add it up, and there's an autograph hunter's dream come true. Sixty-seven squares, embroidered in soft blue and clear red—assembled after a year and a half of endeavor.

To piece the quilt, the nuns of the Good Shepherd were consulted. Mounting the squares on fine blue cotton broadcloth, they stitched a border whose quilted design is the crowned wings of a pilot's badge.

The quilt measures 111 by 96 inches.

Boys' Pipe Band Elects Officers

The second annual general meeting of the Edmonton Boys' Pipe Band Association was held on Tuesday, April 6, in the I.O.O.F. hall, at which Pipe Major Robertson, D.C.M., was granted a life membership in the association. The Pipe Major stated that the position of the band had improved since last year, and he thanked the members for their interest and support of its activities.

The following slate of officers was elected for the ensuing year:

President, H. C. Gerrard; honorary president, T. H. Campbell; honorary vice-president, Mayne Reid, K.C.; first vice-president, L. Peel; second vice-president, J. Lockie; secretary, R. A. Wilson; treasurer, J. Armstrong; auditors, J. Adamson and R. J. Gillis; concert committee, J. Duncan, D. Oliver and J. Stevenson.

It was reported that arrangements had been made for the annual piping and drumming competition which is to be held on May 8, and it is expected there will be keen competition among the boys for the various medals and trophies.

A cup donated by Stewart Campbell for the best style among pipers is expected to result in the boys smartening up.

Seek Positions For Service Men

At a meeting of the Edmonton ex-servicemen's rehabilitation committee, held on Wednesday night, the following resolutions were agreed upon:

That the city commissioners be asked to approach the heads of departments to request that all uniformed members of departments who are ex-servicemen wear the ribbons of their service medals and decorations, while in uniform.

That a letter be written to the secretary of the Civil Service Commission in respect to the recent appointments made to the Wartime Prices and Trade Board in Edmonton, as to why ex-servicemen were not given an opportunity to fill the positions, and whether examinations for these appointments were held, and if not, why?

Shipyard Worker Is Imprisoned For 'Selling' Discharge

VANCOUVER, April 10—(CP)—Police Magistrate H. S. Wood yesterday sentenced Edward Johnston, 21-year-old shipyard worker, to 18 months in jail following his conviction on a charge of creating a mischief by selling a blank army discharge. A member of army intelligence testified he bought the form from Johnston for $20.

City Flood Waters Receding Rapidly

Subsidence of the flood waters that spread over an area of several blocks Friday in the vicinity of 122 avenue and 93 street took place rapidly after noon Friday and men from the city engineer's department took steps to prevent a recurrence of the heavy flood that swept this territory in 1940.

The sudden rise in water in this district, which occurred about 7 a.m. Friday, flooded six homes, and spread to vacant lots in the territory.

A. W. Haddow, city engineer, said that the flood waters were being held and unless some extraordinary sweep comes from the Turnip Lake and the Poplar Lake districts there should be no recurrence of the flood conditions.

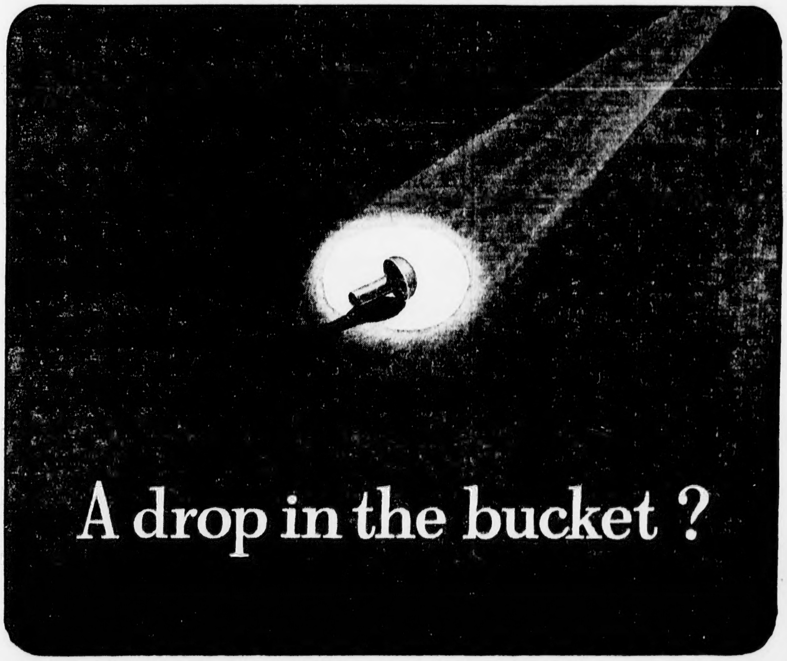
Woman Reports Loss of Money

A resident of 10201 106 street accompanied a male friend to the station to see him off, on Friday night, leaving another man in her room. The train was late, she informed police at 2:25 a.m. Saturday, so she and her companion went to a cafe while waiting for the train. When she returned to her room she found the second man had gone—along with $130 she had hidden in an air-mail letter, placed in the back of a picture and frame and locked in her trunk. The hasp had been broken off the trunk. She described the suspected man as being five feet, 10 inches tall, weight about 185 pounds, and from 50 to 55 years old.



A drop in the bucket ?

THIS is a rivet.
75,000 rivets like this go into one bomber . . .

If one were left out,
the plane might still fly . . .
But it would be weaker
by that much!

A workman who left out one rivet
or two rivets from every plane would be arrested as a saboteur . . .
Just one or two rivets out of 75,000!

Yes, victory depends on a lot of small things.
Each just a drop in the bucket.
Yet, as drop follows drop,
the bucket is filled.

Every rivet, every bullet, is important.

And every dollar of the new
Victory Loan is important . . .
Every dollar you lend Canada!

Even one $100 bond will pay for two complete flying outfits or 3,000 bullets.
It will buy two sub-machine guns or three hospital beds.
Or buy half a ton of bombs
to drop on Berlin!

So don't say, "they don't mean me."
Don't say,
"there's not much I can do about it."
Don't leave it all to the other fellow!

There are two ways to buy Victory Bonds . . .
With cash already saved
or out of earnings.
Do both if you can!
But plan now to buy bonds anyway!

St. Andrews Takes First of Manitoba-Saskatchewan Cage Series

'Peg Andies Trim Saskatoon Cranes 37-31

The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW by Hal Dean

SPORTS EDITOR

CALGARY'S claim for consideration in so far as Allan Cup games are concerned is well founded and it is only fair that the southern Alberta city should not be overlooked when the balance of the dates are allotted. And Regina too should not be given the cold shoulder either.

Merely because senior hockey has gone over in a big way in Winnipeg this season is not sufficient reason that all of the games should be played in the Manitoba capital.

It is not just a "newly found love" in the case of Calgary for that city has consistently supported the seniors down the years, even to the exclusion of the juniors. The C.A.H.A. must have done reasonably well in games played there. The situation is about the same in Regina, while up to this year Winnipeg has been a great junior stronghold, with the seniors scarcely able to draw a breath.

FANS PULL FOR VICTORIA

SHOULD Victoria Army boys win the western playoff and they now have two chances to turn the trick, games in Calgary would no doubt appeal to the B.C. champions and it is just possible they would even designate Calgary as their home ice.

And incidentally a win for the coast lads would be very popular in Edmonton, for it would in all probability mean a Victoria-Ottawa Commandos final series, as the eastern soldiers look like a shoo in.

An Allan Cup playoff which included Neil and Mac Colville, Ken Reardon, Elmer Kreller, Mel Lunde, Julian Sawchuck and George Agar would have every appearance of a home-town reunion, even if Jack McGill and Bill Carse, two other Edmontonians, were forced through injuries to view the games from the rail.

"M" DEPOT CAGERS READY

NO. 3 "M" Depot Red Devils had their final tune-up for the western semi-final series last night when they took on U.S. Army Engineers. The American cagers enjoyed a 15-6 lead at one stage in the second quarter and were ahead 15-12 at the half, but the R.C.A.F. hoopsters came back in the third session to take control and eventually win out.

The series which commences on Monday night should produce high class basketball, regardless as to whether St. Andrews or Saskatoon Cranes constitute the opposition. The Red Devils have a fast and well conditioned team.

Experience also counts and playing in a title series is no novelty for several of the boys. Jim Bardsley has been on three Canadian championship clubs and "Busher" Jackson on one. This pair along with John Kamisky, Don Gray and "Chief" Buna as the main shock troops will be hard to head off.

Junior Series in Toronto

First Allan Cup Game To Be Played in Winniped

MIDLAND, Ont., April 10.—(CP)—George Dudley, past president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, announced here last night that the first Allan cup play-off game would be held in Winnipeg.

Locale for the remaining games was not known as yet, he said, adding that Frank Sargent, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, was leaving for Winnipeg today to arrange the play-off schedule.

(Mr. Sargent mentioned both Regina and Calgary as sites for some of the games, but said he would not know for certain until he had conferred with A. W. Pickard, second vice-president of the C.A.H.A., in Winnipeg late today.)

Date of the opening Allan cup game was not known, Dudley said, as it would depend upon when the Ottawa Commandos and Ottawa R.C.A.F. Flyers complete their best-of-five series, which now stands at 1-0 for the Commandos.

Second game of the series will be played at Ottawa Saturday, while the third game will be at Toronto Monday.

Mr. Dudley also announced that the Memorial cup finals would get underway at Toronto on Saturday, April 17, between either Oshawa General and Montreal Canadiens from the east and Winnipeg Rangers representing the west.

The series will be a best-of-seven affair, with all games being played in Toronto. First four matches will be held on April 17, 19, 21 and 24, and further games, if necessary, will be played April 26 and 28 and May 1.

Racing Season For Kentucky Starts Today

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 10.—(AP)—Thoroughbred racing returns to Kentucky for the 1943 season today with the opening of the transplanted Keeneland race course spring program at Churchill Downs.

Hit by war transportation restrictions Keeneland, which is situated eight miles from Lexington, Ky., and served only by passenger automobiles, moved its 10-day spring program to street-car-served Churchill Downs here.

The 19-day spring race meet at the Downs, featured by the 69th running of the Kentucky Derby, May 1, opens April 24.

Feature of the opening day Keeneland program will be the running of the $2,500 added Phoenix handicp at six furlongs for three-year-olds and up.

Of the 11 horses nominated for the race only Derby-eligible Noonday Sun from the Greentree stable is a three-year-old. In preparation for the race the Greentee entry was given a workout yesterday and went a half a mile in 48 seconds flat. Noonday Sun was assigned a weight of 103 pounds.

Top weighted entry was Anticlimax with 116 pounds. Quienes was next with 115, while Miss Dogwood, Mar-kell and Contradiction were let in at 113. Pig Tails was assigned 110 and Harvard Square 109. Alohort was given 107 pounds and Three Glovers and Marksman 105.

A meeting will be held in Bissell Institute gymnasium on next Monday evening at 8 o'clock for those girls who may be interested in playing ball on the Boyle Street grounds this coming season and a general discussion of such plans that may be formed for teams and leagues.

And on Tuesday evening at the same hour and place, a similar meeting will be held for boys. These meetings are to plan how the different evenings of the week may be allotted for games and practice hours.

Lawn Bowling

The Edmonton Lawn Bowling Club will hold its semi-annual meeting on Wednesday, April 14th, in the King Edward school at 8 p.m. Among other items of interest to members for discussion will be the appointment of skips for the coming season, new rules governing the playing of the E.C.D. trophy and recommendations to the City Association as to the playing of inter-club games on Wednesdays.

The general meeting will be immediately followed by a shareholders' meeting and it is particularly requested that all members and prospective new members will be present.

Playing of Ches McCance Game Feature

SASKATOON, April 10.—(CP)—Winnipeg's St. Andrew's, Manitoba champions, defeated Saskatoon R.C.A.F. Cranes, Saskatchewan's representatives, 37-31 in the first game of a two-game, total-point western Canada senior men's basketball playoff here last night.

The second game will be played tonight. The winner will meet Edmonton No. 3 R.C.A.F. Manning Depot Red Devils in the western semi-finals.

Displaying superior finish around the basket, the Manitobans led throughout the game. They were ahead 8-4 at the end of first quarter, 20-12 at half time, 30-22 at the end of the third.

The Airmen's best showing was in the final quarter when they outscored the Andies 9-7.

Ches McCance, of Winnipeg Blue Bombers football fame, was the outstanding figure in the visitors' victory. He supplied the passes for a large number of their baskets and played a strong game on defence.

Sgt. Jack Tomes was the Andies' leading scorer with 14 points. Dave Greenberg, who joined the team from the University of Manitoba quintet, was next in line with nine.

LAC. Porky Andrews, formerly of University of Oregon and Victoria Blue Ribbons and Victoria Dominoes, was the leading sniper for the R.C.A.F. with 21 points. Lance Hudson, another west coast product, and LAC. Milt Hansen, who hails from Taber, Alta., were next in line with four each.

TORONTO, April 10.—(CP)—There is some conjecture that the American Hockey League may not operate next season. The report Cleveland Barons will seek a National League berth would seem to give the rumor some foundation.

The American League is the last surviving minor professional circuit. The Pacific Coast League and the American Association previously folded and the American League clubs had their troubles during the winter. New Haven Eagles dropped out in mid-season.

The player shortage will increase tremendously before next winter. Young athletes are entering the armed forces by the dozen. Others are employed in essential industry and it is unlikely they will be permitted leave of absence to play hockey.

For that reason, Cleveland's bid for an N.H.L. berth may be accepted. There's a rumor too that Buffalo may jump to the major circuit, which would operate with eight teams.

A slap for Apps.

Baz O'Meara of the Montreal Star takes issue with Syl Apps, Toronto Maple Leafs star who is quoted as saying Detroit Red Wings started the present "scrambly" style of hockey "because it was the only way in which they could beat clubs better than themselves." O'Meara says Boston Bruins first introduced pressure hockey and subsequently Lester Patrick, Dick Irvin and others went to work on the idea.

"Detroit, for many years considered drab, defensive and more of a routine team, were probably last to succumb to the idea, but even yet wings pay more attention to balance and a strong defence than most teams. They are not a wild helter skelter team and Red Dutton for instance regards them as the best coached team in the game today."

Basketball Semi-Final Series Opens at Arena Here Monday

CONTINUING their bid for Dominion basketball honors, No. 3 "M" Depot Red Devils will meet the winner of the current Winnipeg St. Andrews-Saskatoon R.C.A.F. series in the first game of the western semi-final at the Arena on Monday night.

The second of the two-game total-point playoff here is billed for Wednesday night and the winner will journey to Vancouver to play the R.C.A.F. team from Patricia Bay, British Columbia champions.

The western final has been set for April 16, 17 and 19 and the Dominion title series will commence at the home of the western champion on April 23.

The "M" Depot Red Devils, rated to have an excellent chance of reaching the western final have been consistent winners throughout the entire season.

After taking the Inter-Services League title, they defeated U.S. Army Engineers, winners of the City Basketball League in a hard-fought best-of-three series for the city title.

In the Alberta playdowns they easily triumphed over Red Deer Army and then took Raymond Union Jacks for two straight to win the Alberta championship.

The team includes on its roster several very outstanding players and it is expected that they will give a good account of themselves in the semi-final starting on Monday night.

Should the team win through to the final, the championship games will be played at the Arena.

Following are thumb-nail sketches of the Red Devils:

Jimmy Barclay, the captain and spearhead of the Red Devils, is 29 years old, played senior basketball in Vancouver for U.B.C. and Westerns, Dominion champions in '37 and '38. Also with Maple Leafs when they won Dominion title in '40. Born in New York City, Jimmy lived most of his life in Vancouver. Is 5' 11" tall, and plays right guard.

John Kaminsky, born in Vegreville, Alta., is 22 years old. Lived mostly in Portland, Oregon and Vancouver, Wash., played with Mount Angel College team two years. John is 6' 2" high and plays centre and forward.

"Busher" Jackson, born in Saskatchewan, played all his basketball in Victoria with the famed Dominoes. Was with them when they won Canadian title in 39. "Bush" is 6' tall, plays forward or guard, and is deadly around the basket.

Don Gray hails from Vancouver, where he lived all his life. Played with Tookes last year, but lost to Dominoes in B.C. final. Don is 6' 2" tall, plays guard and is 21 years old. Don is a real team player, setting up play after play.

Pacifico "Chief" Buna, hails from the "Smoky City," Trail, B.C. Chief played intermediate "A" ball in B.C., with the Trail Aces, champions in 41. Chief is a left-hander, plays forward, and is very effective around the basket. Chief is 6' tall and 21 years old.

Sid Watson, 22 years old, hails from Victoria. Played with the Dominos last year when they won Dominion title. Is 5' 10" high and plays guard.

Dale Main, 21-year-old Calgarian, played with Calgary Junior Jimmies, Alberta champs in '40. Dale is 5' 11" high and although a featherweight, is effective from close in; plays forward.

Alma Baker, born in Leavett, Alberta, played mostly in Cardston and Taber. Came to Edmonton, where he played with Latter Day Saints. Alma is 25 years old, and 5' 11" tall. Centre.

Bruce Fisher, 21, hails from West Summerland, in the Okanogan Valley. Played with Senior B champions in '41. "Fish" is 6' tall and takes a beating from the lads about Summerland. His favorite shot; one from the corner. Plays forward.

Jack Forrest, 18, and Ellery Gill, 18, both call Alberni, on Vancouver Island their home. Payed intermediate ball there, winning B.C. title in '41 and '42. Both lads are 6' 2" tall, and are real pals, and have been for years.

Clarence "Bert" Jenion, a chunky, tough guard. Bert played high school ball in Vancouver, but was a star at lacrosse, being in the Dominion finals two years ago. Is 25 and the shrimp of the team, 5' 8", but the toughest and most rugged.

Tom Derbyshire, 29, played in Calgary, where he was born. Played in Vancouver, but has a leaning toward coaching and managing teams. Is 6' 2" and plays guard—when he plays—is more useful on the bench looking after subs.

The other two members of the "Red Devils" are F.L. W. C. Cumming, officer in charge of the team, and Cpl. John Bishop, PTI in charge of the Red Devils.

"M" Depot Wins Exhibition Game From Engineers

No. 3 "M" Depot Red Devils defeated U.S. Army Engineers 39-29 in their exhibition basketball game played at McDougall gym on Friday night.

John Gulickson of the Army quintet was top scorer for the night with a total of 20 points, while Jim Bardsley was high for the R.C.A.F. with 12. Harley Miller and "Busher" Jackson each made six.

Engineers held a 7-4 lead at the end of the first quarter, six of their points being scored by Gulickson, the other being a free throw by "Windy" Smith. Don Gray and John Kaminsky divided the "M" Depot points.

Army also lead at half-time, the score being 15-12. Harley Miller accounted for five of the Engineers points in the second half, the other going to Gulickson. Busher Jackson with four and Don Gray and Jim Bardsley with two each were the Depot points-makers.

The Airmen came back with 14 points in the third period to lead 26-22. Ellery Gill (2), Gray (2), Chief Buna (2), and Bardsley (8), scored for Red Devils, while Gulickson accounted for all seven of the Engineers points.

"M" Depot outscored Army 13-7 in the final quarter. John Kaminsky made three of the 13, Jack Forrest four, and Bardsley, Gill and Jackson two each.

Oliver Goodland dropped in one basket for Engineers, while Gulickson made four points and Miller one.

One Technical Knockout

Vic Hi Wins 10 School Boxing, Wrestling Titles

Victoria High took 10 boxing and wrestling titles at the annual city school championships held in the Westglen gym Friday night. They won five bouts and gained the other five by default.

The Norwood and Cromdale schools each won five of the 33 titles, Westglen three, St. Joseph's high, Grandin and Alex Taylor two each and Queen Alex, Calder, Queen's Avenue and Garneau one each.

The night's card was featured by a second round technical knockout in the 126-pound class. Leonard Maher of St. Joseph's high held a slight edge over his schoolmate Ted Castello, 123 in the first round and in the second the former just waded into Castello and knocked him down twice with rights to the face forcing Referee Roy Haliburton to stop the fight.

Beside the title wrestling bouts Ray Harris weighing 100 pounds fought Tom Warton who is 10 pounds lighter in an exhibition. Both boys are from Cromdale.

Hassie Young, Westglen, had very little trouble in winning the 175-pound wrestling title. Young enjoyed a four-pound advantage to down Irving Lerner from Victoria twice.

70-POUND BOUT

The 500 fans were entertained to a great extent in the 70-pound class bout. James Shaul gained a fall in the first few minutes, but Kenneth Munro weighing 12 pounds less tried desperately, but was unable to down his heavier opponent. A close decision was given to James Shaul. Both boys are from Norwood.

Pat West, of Norwood, weighing 90 pounds took his division when he gained two falls on David Brenton of Alex Taylor.

Henry Hosegawa, after downing George Greenwood at the 3:30 minute mark won the unanimous decision of the judges in the 135-pound class and Steve Dzeryk, Victoria, in the final wrestling match, also won an unanimous decision when he beat Elmer Schacher, from the same school, in the 145-pound class. There were no downs in the latter bout.

Leland Brubaker, Queen's Avenue, won a split decision over Lawrence Bordian of Alex Taylor in the 80-pound division to open the title boxing matches.

COWLEY FIGHTS TWICE

Jim Cowley captured the 112-pound championship in a bout with Frank Slattery. The first round was close and in the second Cowley started Slattery's nose bleeding and he had a big margin in the third. Cowley, however, was beaten later on in the evening in the 120 class by Arnold McQuarrie who enjoyed a six-pound advantage. MacQuarrie was knocked down in the first round, but came back to win the decision of the judges in the last two.

Lawrence Johnson weighing 143, of St. Joseph's high, won a split decision over Ron Nattress from Westglen also weighing 143.

John Hewko walked out of the ring as the proud winner of the 160-pound class after a fight which had lots of action with Ken MacLeod and Stanley Stewart, Westglen won the light heavyweight division after a close bout with Irving Lerner.

John MacDiarmid, a smooth boxer weighing 134, won the most scientific bout of the night when he took a split decision from Adam Odynsky. Both lads are from Victory high.

Agar to Replace Injured Carse In Tonight's Game

WINNIPEG, April 10.—(CP)—Both Winnipeg R.C.A.F. Bombers and Victoria Army expressed confidence last night they would win the fourth game of the western Canada senior hockey best-of-five final to be played before some 5,000 fans here tonight.

A win for Victoria will put them into the Dominion final against either Ottawa Commandos or Ottawa R.C.A.F. as they lead the series 2-1.

Lieut. Bud Ray's Army sextet took the first game at Calgary 3-2 and the third at Winnipeg 4-3 with the Bombers winning the other game 4-1 at Regina.

Late last night Ray announced that Pte. George Agar, former Saskatoon and Edmonton player who performed with the Army team in the Winnipeg Senior circuit this season, would join the British Columbia champions as a replacement for Bill Carse. Pte. Bill Carse, ace centreman was injured in Thursday night's game here. Carse suffered torn shoulder ligaments and will be out for the season. Apart from the one replacement, Ray said he would use the same lineup in the fourth encounter.

Sgt. Reni Trudel, Bombers forward, was nursing a sore leg yesterday but it was not determined whether he would play.

Frank Sargent, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, announced that Albert Pudas of Fort William and Danny Cox of Port Arthur will be the officials in the Saturday night game. Pudas replaces Hilt McDonald of Melville, Sask.

NEW YORK, April 10.—(BUP)—Opening day at Jamaica certainly opened the eyes of skeptics who doubted the ability of racing to carry on in the Metropolitan area in the face of wartime transportation inconveniences.

The Jamaica plant was so jammed — 26,464 persons — that football tactics were required to reach the mutuel windows or refreshment stands—while the refreshments lasted.

Attesting to the enthusiastic perseverence of the patrons, refreshments were sold out before the second race started, and the day's mutuel handle totalled $1,300,919, largest opening day take in New York turf history.

RECORD SEASON IN SIGHT

WHEN we approached the plant, a riot appeared to be in progress. Investigation disclosed that about 300 fans were blocking the turnstiles, trying to buy programs from attendants as they carried them in from the nearby printing van. The normal supply of programs had been exhausted and more than a third of the devotees never did get them.

We stress the shortages of refreshments and programs because they reveal what a tremendous surprise the huge turnout caused the able crowd anticipators — the concessionaires and track officials. Turf writers also were amazed. One of them optimistically predicted in Thursday's paper that 8,000 fans were expected despite the ban on the use of pleasure cars, taxicabs, extra buses and extra trains.

The opening day figures probably augur well for the most prosperous racing season the New York turf has enjoyed. During the ensuing 179 days of competition the mutuels should grind out fabulous totals. There have been larger crowds at Jamaica, but we doubt that the plant ever was host to a crowd that bet as much per capita.

BLUE SWORDS TWELFTH

THE enthusiastic crowd saw a great race in the featured experimental handicap, in which the three money mounts swept under the wire more closely bunched than Siamese triplets while the favorite, Blue Swords, wandered home 12th among the 15 starters.

To our mind, the most important development in the experiment was the excellent showing of Bossuet. This dark bay colt, owned by Belair Stud and trained by Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, finished second. He was a head behind the winner, Slide Rule, and coming fast. Bossuet had been so lightly regarded in the classy field that included 13 Kentucky Derby hopefuls he paid $18.40 for place.

Before this race, it had been feared that Fitzsimmons lacked a formidable Derby starter for the first time in eight years, but now it appears that Sunny Jim again has a dangerous Kentucky nominee. Blue Sword's performance in the six furlong spring was not taken to heart by the experts. A slow starter, he needs distance for his best work and thus remains second choice to Count Fleet for the Derby.

Holdouts Still Remain In Major Baseball Leagues

NEW YORK, April 10—(AP)—This was to be the year that baseball would have no holdouts. Yet with less than two weeks remaining before the season opens, a few holdouts still are waging salary struggles with the major league clubs.

The headliners in this group are catcher Clyde McCullough and outfielder Lou Novikoff of Chicago Cubs, outfielder Jeff Heath of Cleveland Indians, pitcher Johnny Allen of Philadelphia Phillies and possibly catcher Ernie Lombardi of Boston Braves.

Lombardi, National league batting champion last year for the second time in his career, wrote the Braves that he intended to remain on a war job in California in order to be close to his father who was ill. But the Braves have received other reports that he was not satisfied on their club and desired to be traded.

It is known that both New York Giants and the Phillies have been making efforts to deal for the big slugger, who batted .330 last season.

Novikoff, the "Mad Russian" who batted an even .300 last year, is asking $10,000 and reportedly has been offered $6,000, a raise of $500 over his contract of last year. Just what McCullaugh, the scrappy little catcher is asking, is not known.

Heath was called upon to take a considerable cut this season as the result of his batting average dropping from .340 to .278. Last year he received about $15,000 and after long negotiations the club is now understood to be offering him $10,500 with bonus clauses that might make it possible for him to earn $14,000.

Allen, who was traded by Brooklyn Dodgers this winter, has been offered a flat $9,000 by the Phillies.

Date for Next Game Uncertain

CALGARY, April 10.—(CP)—Second game of the Alberta intermediate basketball final between Calgary R.C.A.F. Flyers and Edmonton Y.M.C.A., scheduled for last night, will be played at Edmonton either Monday or Tuesday of next week it was announced here. Special duties kept the Calgary team from making the trip yesterday. Flyers won the first game here Wednesday 50-47.

Tony Galento Plans Comeback

ORANGE, N.J., April 10—(AP)—Two-ton Tony Galento, to whom today's crop of heavyweights are "all bums," announced last night he'll return to the ring for another shot at the title.

The 33-year-old orange tavern keeper said he wanted no duration crown, though he'd meet Joe Louis, heavyweight champion now in the army, for army or navy relief.

"I'm not in this just for the money," explained Galento. "I like the glory. I like this handshaking business."

Willie Gilzenberg, Galento's new manager and the seventh in his turbulent ring career, told sports writers he was negotiating for Galento to meet Freddie Mills, R.A.F. ground crew member and British light heavyweight champion, for charity.

Major And Minor Notes

By John Oliver

JOHN OLIVER

ANNOUNCEMENT last Saturday of the six artists who will make up next season's Celebrity Series of Concerts, sponsored by the Women's Musical Club, brought an immediate and gratifying response from subscribers and would-be subscribers. Mrs. Ernest Meaden, manager of the series, opened her office at Heintzman and Company's store on Monday in order that subscribers during 1942-1943 could book reservations for next season. Already there has been an unprecedented demand for seats, and indications are that by the time this appears in print all available seats will have been booked. Last season, the entire accommodation of the Empire theatre was taken before the end of June, constituting a record up until that time. Now, with seating being exhausted within a week, a new and even more forceful demonstration has been given of the place the Celebrity Series holds with Edmonton music lovers.

Already Mrs. Meaden has more than 200 persons on the waiting list—those who did not subscribe last season, due primarily to the fact that no seats were available, and others who are applying for the first time. Mrs. Meaden stated that those on the waiting list who are carry-overs from last season, will be given seniority in applications. A careful survey of the seating accommodation of McDougall auditorium, to which the concerts are being transferred from the Empire theatre, has been made, and what is believed to be a satisfactory plan has been drawn up. There are 1,504 seats, of which 84 will be in the choir-loft. This is a slightly larger total than in the Empire.

There are not as many seats in front of the balcony at McDougall as at the Empire. Most applicants want to sit in the centre or left blocks of the hall. "Some day when I build a concert hall of my own, I am going to have nothing but centre and left seats. There will be no right blocks in my dream theatre. Then, if there are enough in the centre and on the left, all my troubles will be over," Mrs. Meaden stated as she sought to make the available supply go further than possible.

Mention of Mrs. Meaden recalls to mind that she read me portions of a letter she had just received from her son, Sgt.-Pilot William Meaden, now overseas with the R.C.A.F. Bill, as he is known to his justifiably adoring mother, had enjoyed some leave at Birmingham, and had attended a concert by the touring London Philharmonic Orchestra. This surprised Mrs. Meaden, because back home, Bill had never shown any particular interest in symphonic music, nor, for that matter, had he shown any profound interest in the products of the hepcats. He had never sought to jive or be on the beam of swingcopation. But mention of the London Philharmonic intrigued him, so Bill—with his girl friend—hied himself to the concert hall, only to find that all seats had been sold out three weeks in advance. Bill explained in his letter that he spun quite a yarn to "the bloke" in the box office, who was so moved by his story of coming thousands of miles and his love of good music, that he rummaged around and finally produced two of the best seats in the house.

Once inside, Bill—and his girl friend—settled down to enjoy the music. The program consisted of the Prelude to Act 3 of Wagner's Lohengrin, the Symphony No. 2 of Sibelius, and the Waltz from Tchaikovsky's ballet The Sleeping Beauty. From now on, Bill is a confirmed symphony fan. He tells of the thrills he experienced at the Lohengrin Prelude. And who wouldn't? Those three trombones in unison on the melody, with the strings tremolo, can give anyone a thrill seldom experienced. The Sibelius symphony he found a little beyond him, but the Tchaikovsky waltz, with its dainty melody and exquisite orchestration, scored a bull's eye. And Bill added that while he did not understand the finer points of music, his girl friend did, and her explanatory remarks aided him immeasurably.

This is just one instance of the comfort, stimulation and inspiration brought to the man of the fighting forces by music. There are many that could be cited. In the last week I came across another similar case.

Tommy Bellamy, who is now a LAC. in the R.C.A.F. and who during his University of Alberta days and the seven years intervening between graduation and enlistment, was one of our ace tennis players hereabouts, was home on a few days leave this week. He had just completed his protracted course as a radio technician. For the first part of his leave, he headed for New York. He was there four days. He didn't haunt the night clubs, and play the bright spots on 42nd Street. The first thing he did was hurry to Carnegie Hall to hear the mighty New York Philharmonic-Symphony Orchestra. Dr. Fritz Reiner was conducting and Joseph Szigeti, violinist, was the soloist. The program included William Schuman's Prayer for Victory, the Brahms Second Symphony, and the Brahms Violin Concerto. LAC. Bellamy expressed his thrill at listening to this great orchestra, of seeing in person, such distinguished first-chair men as Mishel Piastro, the concertmaster; Joseph Schuster, first 'cellist; Simeon Bellison, first clarinet, and other players whom he had read about and heard over the air many times.

Also he went to the Metropolitan Opera House and heard, not alas the Metropolitan Opera, as its season had finished, but a group of artists well and favorably known here, the Don Cossacks Chorus. It seemed like old times to be among such friends, as he had heard the singing horsemen here.

And so it goes. Here are but two cases of the infinite joy and satisfaction brought to men in the fighting services through music. There are thousands, probably millions like them, who are deriving entertainment, comfort and inspiration through the greatest of all the arts.

On Sunday, May 9, there will be a concert at the Rialto theatre in aid of the new wings club which is being opened. Mrs. Meaden, Mrs. Gordon Gray, Mrs. H. S. Craig and Mrs. J. A. Buchanan form the committee in charge. The program is being drafted, and will include the playing of the first movement of the Schumann piano concerto in A Minor, opus 54, by Miss Hazel Taylor, with orchestra accompaniment by the Edmonton Philharmonic Society, under Ronald Shean.

Mention of the Edmonton Philharmonic Society brings to mind that the following are the players in this organization, conducted by Mr. Shean: First violins, Walter Holowach, Patricia Norris, Ted Lindskoog, Max Superstein, Mrs. J. M. Thom, Hector Wyman, Dick Jacobs, Frank Sorenson, Leon Bell, E. Swindlehurst, Neil McCullough; second violins, Jessie Hogarth, Marcia Gillespie, Lillian Dutka, Cecil Waggott, Tom Waggott, Yolla Jones, Miss Rider, Jennis Ozypko; violas, Bernard Young and Winifred Tait; 'cellos, Constance Gagner and Phyllis McHaffie; brass, Ted Taylor; wind, Mr. Frost, Bill Stott, Abe Trademan, Berneice Tucker; bass, George McBride.

In selecting Mrs. T. Winslow Hamilton as its president for the 1943-44 season, the Women's Musical Club has made an excellent choice. Granted that Mrs. Gordon Gray, who has held the post for two years, was firm in adhering to a principle she has enunciated on many occasions in that none should hold such an office for more than two years, then it is difficult to imagine a happier choice of a successor than Mrs. Hamilton. Few musicians have worked more unceasingly or unremittingly on behalf of music than Mrs. Hamilton. Not only in her capacity as a private teacher, but as president of the Edmonton branch of the Alberta Music Teachers' Association, and as an executive member of the Musical Club, she has given freely of her time, sage counsel and experience, and one may rest assured that under her direction, the high standards reached and kept, will be fully maintained.

A young Edmonton singer, Madeleine Turgeon, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noel Turgeon of 9328 107 avenue, will be one of a group of singers taking part in programs of the New York Philharmonic-Symphony Orchestra at Carnegie Hall, New York, on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, April 16, 17 and 18. Miss Turgeon, as a member of the Pius 10 school choir of 18 girls, the oldest of whom is 17 years, will sing in a presentation of Bach's Passion as a special Easter offering. The famous Westminster Choir under John Finlay Williamson, also will take part. The Philharmonic will be conducted by Bruno Walter. Miss Turgeon, when she was 12 years old, won a five-year scholarship from the Manhattan College of the Sacred Heart, which entitled her to study music and other subjects at the Pius 10 school, where her teacher is Mother Georgia Stevens, a famous authority on church music. Miss Turgeon had been a winner in music festivals prior to going to New York, where she will be graduated from the Pius 10 school next year.

Sponsored by the Cromdale Red Cross Women's Circle, the Lyric Club Women's Chorus will give a concert of excerpts from the musical play "Romany Rendezvous" at 8 p.m., April 13, in the Assembly hall of Cromdale school. Mrs. Peter McSporran will conduct, and Ivy Stanley Carter will be at the piano. Proceeds will be in aid of the Red Cross Society. The program will include: Processional, Come Lasses and Lads; chorus, In the Gypsy's Life; O Play to Me Gypsy, sung by Una Palmer and Chorus; dance, Dois Thomas; chorus, Dance Song; solo, Gypsy Moon, sung by Kathleen O'Farrell; duet, Where My Caravan Has Rested, sung by Mrs. C. Tram Off Track

Traffic on the Red-and-White and White line street cars had to be rerouted over the trolley bus lines when a street car left the track at 109 street and 83 avenue about 10:30 p.m. Friday. A spread rail was the cause of the accident. The line was cleared about midnight when workmen placed the street car back on the track again.

Noted Missionary Will Visit Here

One of a group of United church missionaries to return to Canada in August, 1942, on the diplomatic steamer, S.S. Gripsholm, the Rev. William Scott, M.A., one of Canada's outstanding missionaries will visit Edmonton shortly when he will be heard in a series of addresses.

Mr. Scott, who by the time he arrives here will have had the degree of doctor of divinity conferred upon him by Union College, Vancouver, is touring Canada under the auspices of the Foreign Missions and Missionary and Maintenance committees of the Edmonton Presbytery of the United church.

A native of Lanark, Scotland, Mr. Scott commenced his mission work in Manitoba in 1906 and the following year attended Queen's University in 1907. He was graduated in 1911.

Mr. Scott received his first appointment in foreign missions in Korea in 1914. In 1921 he was appointed principal of the Boys' Academy in Lungshtsun, Manchuria, where he remained until he was transferred to Hamheung in 1925 as principal of the boys' academy.

When he resigned from his position he devoted his time to writing and translated the articles of Proverbs and Ecclesiates in the Abington Bible commentary which appeared in Korean a few years ago. He has also written several other works.

He will speak at Norwood United church on the evening of Wednesday, April 21 at a missionary rally, visit Westlock Thursday April 22, and give the address at the Good Friday service at Knox United church at 11 a.m., April 23.

Stretcher Test Almost Blocks Street Traffic

Crowds fell back and others fell in behind the four stretcher bearers who crossed Jasper avenue at 102 street on Thursday night. The still, bandaged figure on the stretcher was moved almost silently in the semi-darkness. Traffic became almost blocked.

A pedestrian pushed through the crowd and fell-in beside one of the stretcher-bearers. "What's the trouble?" he asked.

The carrier replied in a hushed voice: "Practice."

Victory Committee Views Two Films

The regular meeting of the Canadians for Victory committee was held in the Agency building on Tuesday.

After the regular business was attended to three films, including "Machines and Men," and "Women Warriors," were shown to the meeting by the Edmonton Junior Chamber of Commerce in conjunction with the department of extension, University of Alberta.

Interest in the films was expressed by the meeting; and it was decided that arrangements be made with the Junior Chamber of Commerce for a return visit at the next regular meeting, when Carl Sansom will be the speaker on the vital topic, "The Manpower Problem in Canada."

Community Dance On Tuesday Next

The Federation of Community Leagues has fostered a feeling of good fellowship among its various sections by an annual banquet in past years. This year however the wartime restrictions on hotels and cafes have prevented such an event so an effective alternative in the form of a combined concert and dance is proposed.

This entertainment, which will be held on Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Memorial Hall will consist of the best talent from the various leagues in such features as music, dances and readings, produced by artists whose services are all given to the Red Cross. The program is open to the public.

A variety program of concert numbers and moving pictures will be given from 8 to 10 p.m. followed by a dance with one of Edmonton's best dance orchestras. The Memorial Hall management is co-operating with the federation.

Instructor, Pupils Killed in Crash Near Penhold Base

A sergeant instructor and a student airman in a training plane from the R.A.F. training school at Penhold, were killed when the aircraft crashed three miles from Penhold Friday morning.

R.A.F. officials said that a court of inquiry will be held into the cause of the crash. Names of the victims are withheld pending notification of next-of-kin.

Penhold is about 100 miles south of Edmonton on the main rail and highway connecting Edmonton and Calgary.

GUARDIANSHIP... BY THE PEOPLE... FOR THE PEOPLE...

Pilot
without wings

YOU may not be required to fly a bomber and risk your life in striking at enemy targets. Age and health may bar you from service on the fighting fronts.

But as a family man, you are a pilot on the home front. You face unforeseen hazards. Your family looks to you to chart a wise course for the safety of yourself and your loved ones.

Fortunately you need not be alone at the controls—you have a reliable co-pilot in life insurance. It will help you to attain any definite financial object in life that you set for yourself. It will safeguard the precious lives in your care.

Guardianship of the people, by the people—that is the story of life insurance—a story of security for more than a million Canadian families. It's the romance of the people's dollars co-operating and circulating in a democracy we must fight to save. And to save that democracy, every Canadian should work, save and lend for victory to the limit of his ability.

Service Men Pay Tribute To Comrades Who Fell in Capture of Vimy Ridge

Honoring again their comrades whose sacrifice made possible one of Canada's greatest military triumphs of the First Great War, men from the Edmonton branches of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., led by President H. E. Tanner, marched to the cenotaph, where a wreath was laid to commemorate those who died in the storming of Vimy Ridge on April 9, 1917

Heads Parade

H. E. Tanner, president of the Edmonton branch of the Canadian Legion, who led the parade from the Memorial Hall to the Cenotaph Friday night, to lay a wreath commemorating the men who fought and won at Vimy Ridge.

A feature of the ceremony this year was the marching of about 20 members of United States military units with the Legionaires to the Cenotaph.

The Legionaires, who wore Legion wedge hats and blazers with medals, were headed by Pipe Maj. Henry Laing and his pipers.

Maj. R. C. Arthurs, M.C., was parade marchal. A color party with the Legion colors marched at the front.

The parade formed at the Memorial Hall and marched through heavy rain to the Cenotaph where Mr. Tanner laid the wreath.

PLAY LAMENT

The pipers played the lament followed by Last Post and Reveille by the bugler.

Back at the Memorial Hall the ceremony continued before a packed audience of between 500 and 600.

The lights in the building were extinguished and the Cross of Sacrifice with crossed flags behind was revealed on the stage when the curtain slid back. Last Post and Reveille were again sounded as the audience stood at attention.

President Tanner then spoke for a few minutes on the Battle of Vimy Ridge, an engagement that he participated in.

FOREVER CANADA

He told the young soldiers present they may yet have the opportunity of retaking the ridge that is forever part of Canada.

Toast to the armed forces was proposed by Maj. Arthurs and responded to by Group Capt. R. M. Smith, commanding officer at No. 3 M. depot.

Others who participated were Lt.-Col. E. Brown, M.M., E.D., area commandant and Vice-President J. Williams of the Legion.

John Randolph, United States consul-general, and Col. L. D. Worsham, officer commanding U.S. engineers here for northwest division and other officers representing the navy and army were present.

Getting Around

Jack DeLong

Flooding of basements and grounds in many sections of the city following one of the heaviest seasonal snowfalls in history, raises to mind a question. Why can we not make preparations earlier to prevent such flooding? As flooding is costly to both residents and the city it does seem that a fairly simple system of drainage could be installed that would carry off the melting snow as rapidly as it thaws.

If homes can be insulated against frost and cold before winter arrives, why is it not possible to make similar preparations in advance against flooding?

A certain amount of new drainage was installed in some of the known "wet spots" after the flood of 1940.

One of the penalties for sudden growth and fame that a city must pay is that of "loneliness" on the part of veteran residents. Since the big friendly "invasion" from south of the border in the past year, the chief lament one hears from the ordinary Edmonton residents is:

"I don't know anybody in this town any more." And believe us, it's the truth. Of course there are two factors contributing to this "loss of identity" on the part of the native Edmontonian. One is the steady flow toward the armed forces of the young men and women of the city. Practically all of these are trained elsewhere, so are immediately "lost" as citizens after joining up.

Then in the first two years of the war, before the Alaska Highway and the other great northern developments, hundreds of Edmonton residents went to war jobs in other parts of Canada. There are hundreds working in the shipyards of Vancouver and other west coast ports. Hundreds more went east to munitions factories and other war plants.

Then came the "invasion" from south of the line, with thousands and thousands of newcomers from every state in the union pouring in to Edmonton. And this invasion has not yet reached its peak.

Pity the poor native of Edmonton. He's about the loneliest guy in the world today. But he's secretly getting a big kick out of it and is rather proud of the fact that Edmonton is really a hot spot on the United Nations' map of strategy.

Businessman Dies

A. R. McLennan, prominent Edmonton businessman, who died at his home at 10604 107 street, Friday evening.

A. R. McLennan, Business Man, Dies in the City

Resident of Edmonton since 1912 and a prominent worker in civic, provincial and Dominion politics, Andrew Robert McLennan died at his home at 10604 107 street, Friday night.

Mr. McLennan was born at Walkerton, in Bruce County, Ont., and received his education at the public schools there, and at the London Business College, London, Ont. In 1903 he was married to Annette L. Pray.

Mr. McLennan's first move to the West was to Russell, Man. He had started his career in the lumber business at Wabigoon, Ont., in 1896 with Stewart & McLennan. In 1905 he went to Abernethy, Sask., where he was partner in the firm of Pray & McLennan.

It was in 1912 that Mr. McLennan reached Edmonton in his westward move, and since that year he made this city his home.

Keenly interested in public affairs he served both as a city alderman and a member of the Alberta legislature. He also contested the East Edmonton seat in a Dominion election in the interests of the Liberal party.

Showing his interest in civic affairs still further Mr. McLennan was a member for many years of the Edmonton Exhibition board and was a past president of that organization.

In business here he was sales manager of the Edmonton Box and Shook Co., and box department Chisholm Sawmills.

He was active in club circles having been a former member of the Kiwanis Club. He was also a member of the Northern Alberta Pioneers' and Old Timers' Association, and a member of the A.F. & A.M. He was a member of the board of St. Stephen's college.

Surviving Mr. McLennan are his wife, two daughters, Mrs. C. B. Romer, of Vancouver; Mrs. L. E. Oake of Edmonton, and one son, Robert, of Edmonton. One brother the Rev. G. B. McLennan of Toronto, also survives.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 2 p.m. in the chapel of Howard and McBride funeral service. Officiating will be the Rev. A. F. Marsh, assisted by the Rev. D. C. Ramsey.

Burial will be made in the Edmonton Cemetery.

Two Children Suffering From Gaseous Fumes

Believed to have been the victims of escaping gas fumes in an upstairs suite at 8102 103 street, during the night Friday, Margaret Beaumont, 8, and Stanley Beaumont, 10 years old, respectively, are in the Misericordia hospital. The mother, Mrs. Stanley Beaumont, also suffering from the fumes, was under a doctor's care Saturday, but has not yet been admitted to hospital.

Three Americans, said to have been boarding in the same apartment, also were overcome by the fumes.

Smith's ambulance took the Beaumont children to hospital. Their condition is said to be not serious.

According to available information the gas fumes were first detected at about midnight Friday. A doctor was called and as no one seemed at that time to be seriously affected, he departed after treating the sufferers.

But early Saturday the inmates of the apartment again appeared to be suffering from fumes and removal of the occupants was ordered.

Others affected by the gas besides the children and Mrs. Beaumont, were, Miss Rita Lees and Miss Marie Ricard, and Glen F. Haley, Albin Stark, and Clifton Johnston.

A plugged flue is thought to have caused the gas to flood the apartments.

HUSBAND OVERSEAS

Mrs. Beaumont's husband is overseas. When she awakened Saturday morning the children were so affected by the fumes they could not recognize their mother. Johnston telephoned for a doctor, after he and the other Americans were on the verge of collapse.

Workmen were correcting the mechanical cause of the gas accumulation Saturday.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Taking Wife for Granted No. 1 Sin in Husband

Women Say That Financial Control, Dumbness, Discourtesy Are Rated First Among Major Shortcomings of Opposite Sex

A correspondent asks: "What are the faults that women object to most in their husbands?" Well, the No. 1 grievance of wives is their husbands taking them for granted. That has turned more marriages into cinders, ashes and dust for women than all the combined liquor, and wandering feet, and shiftlessness that afflicts so many of the species.

For if a drunkard will tell his wife when he is sober that she grows more beautiful every day, she will still think she has drawn the capital prize in the matrimonial lottery. If the philanderer will bestow kisses upon his wife that have a little pep in them, instead of giving her duty pecks on the rim of her ear or the back of her head and that are as flabby as a cold flapjack, she will shut her eyes to his sidestepping. And as long as the loafer shows any interest in holding his wife's hand, she will cheerfully work it to the bone for him.

WIFE RELISHES PRAISE

Just why women are so insistent upon their husbands telling them continually about the state of their affections, and that they think they are O.K. when the poor dears picked them out of the whole herd of femmes and assumed their support for life, no one can explain. It is just that women are that way and no matter how kind and devoted and faithful a husband is his wife always feels that she is a poor, neglected creature if he doesn't notice every time she has a new hair-do and compliment her dress, and marvel over the [illegible].

The next fault of husbands that wives object to is dumbness. The great silent man may be an intriguing figure in novels and plays, but he makes no hit in the home circle. No woman's ideal of an agreeable life companion is a stuffed shirt that has no more conversation in it than a store dummy and that only grunts when she prods it with questions.

Most women spend their days in their houses with no more exciting society than the baby and the cat, and it doesn't add up to what they expected marriage to be to have to put in their evenings with men who apparently lose the power of speech when they cross their own thresholds.

FINANCIAL FREEDOM

The third fault of husbands that gets on the nerves of wives is the almost universal masculine belief that women have no desire for financial independence and that the favorite indoor amusement of wives is panhandling their husbands. Why husbands are so allergic to giving their wives an allowance that would be small wages for the multitudinous jobs that they perform as wives and mothers nobody knows, but it is true that many a woman who could charge a $5000 necklace at a jewelry store never has 50 cents that she can [illegible] her own and that she can spend as she pleases.

The Day of Judgment will have no terrors for many a woman who has spent her whole married life listening to the things her husband said to her when the bills came in on the first of the month.

Another fault that women resent in their husbands is the lack of politeness with which they treat them. They seem to think that good manners are too valuable a commodity to waste on a mere wife and many a man drops his at the altar as if they were excess baggage for which he had no further use. The average husband never takes his wife out to a place of amusement until she practically shanghais him into doing so, and when he does he sits up with an expression of damn written all over his face. He doesn't attempt to even carry on a conversation with her, or to make a pretense of having a good time.

CONSIDERATION, COURTESY

Thousands of men sit down every day to good dinners that their wives have spent hours in preparing and gobble them up without a word of appreciation, but let there be a little too much salt in the soup or the roast be overdone, and they cry aloud to Heaven about it. Every day we hear men holding their wives up to ridicule and telling of their mistakes, and saying things to them that they would say to no servant who could put on her hat and quit. It is pitiful to think how many wives would be made happy if their husbands would only treat them with as much consideration and courtesy as they do their stenographers.

And then there are a lot of [illegible] faults that husbands have, such as strewing the bathroom with wet towels, dropping cigarette ashes over the rugs, not taking the trouble to telephone when they are going to be late for dinner, [illegible] garbage can [illegible] the [illegible] were [illegible] Mother's [illegible] examples to [illegible]. All small things, but they [illegible] them.

Cooks have believed for generations that if a cake is in the oven when a thunderstorm comes up, the thunder will cause the cake to fall. There seems to be absolutely nothing to the idea, for about the only way thunder could cause a baking cake to fall would be to frighten some one so badly that they would jump high enough to shake the cake. The real causes of cakes failing are usually chemical rather than mechanical, anyway.

Here is one of the interesting hands I watched during the contest, demonstrating that a good player does not complain about bad breaks—he provides against them. Declarer ruffed the first trick, then cashed the ace of diamonds and ruffed the deuce of diamonds in dummy, with the three of hearts. At this point he must lead a heart and take a finesse. Next the ten of diamonds must be led and trumped in dummy with the eight of hearts. Even though East over-ruffs, he cannot gain another trick, as the declarer's ace will pick up his last trump.

My Day

BY ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

PORTLAND, Oregon. — Friday evening I attended the Women's War Savings League bond rally and spoke to a crowded house. They presented certificates of merit to about 75 women, who represented their industrial plants which had agreed to the 10 per cent payroll deduction. Some plants had 100 per cent of contributors, but all of them at least ninety per cent.

A reception was held afterwards, to which I think most of the audience came. The very charming wife of the governor, Mrs. Arthur Langlie, introduced me and, with the other members of the committee, stood in line to receive the guests at the reception.

In the states of Washington and Oregon, they are carrying on classes to acquaint people with the value of buying bonds, and the reasons why people should be saving at the present time, but I am wondering whether talks are also being given to women on other subjects which might be helpful to them.

I have had a report from New York City which tells me that at Hunter College, they are giving a series of six lectures at which they have speakers from the war man power commission, the vocational department of the board of education, the U.S. employment service, the New York State board of mediation and the state department of labor.

These talks are designed to acquaint women with the needs and opportunities for them in industry, with the background of the Labor Union and its place in the plant, with the importance of safety measures, proper clothing, diet and health habits under new responsibilities. They also give them the information on community facilities available to women on meeting their child care and household problems, and they tell them of the state and national labor laws affecting women in industry.

Of course, this is primarily valuable for women who have not worked before, or who are changing their present employment for employment more essential to the war effort. It seems to me a very helpful service. I should like to see added to it some discussion of the underlying reasons for fighting the war and the post war problems we face together.

What To Do

I am having a dinner party entertaining several people who have never been to my home. With gasoline rationing they will be unable to drive, so I want to know how I can direct them by public transportation."

Answer—If your party is a formal one, you could print the bus, trolley or train schedules on a small card and include them in the envelopes. If you wrote informal notes you could include the times of train or trolley in your note. You should also add directions for getting from the train or trolley to your home with a little map to illustrate, if the directions are difficult, as you will not be able to meet the guests at the station, and taxis are at a premium.

UNIVERSITY
By Jane Becker

A group of badminton players from Varsity High took part in the recent inter-high school tournament held at the Westglen gym. Dorothy Ward and Alan Batchelor teamed to cap the secondary mixed doubles event for Varsity and many of the other participants reached the semi-finals or finals of their events.

Most recent basketball games to be played were two contests between the Varsity High boys and the Normal school. The games were played at the Normal gym where both teams have been practicing and proved to be interesting and hard fought.

The drama club will shortly be parading distinctive club pins, if plans go as arranged. The pins have been ordered and should arrive in about two weeks.

McDOUGALL COMMERCIAL
By Don Daynes

With the weather in its present condition it is not likely that there will be any outdoor activities, but it has been suggested that there be a roller-skating party at the Silver Glade. If you ask those persons who attended the party last term about the fun in store, there is no doubt that you will back such a party up.

STRATHCONA
By Gwen McGregor

Those mournful monsters, the exams, are drawing nearer and nearer to the fated student at Scona. Grade 10 and 11 have their worries but it is grade 12 that really has to get to work.

Everyone had fun plus at the badminton bust-up last night. The social consisted of pie and chocolate milk for eats, and prizes for the best dancing couple. Games for the tournament were played and the results will be posted next week.

At the home gym our girls defeated Westglen in a basketball game full of excitement. The score was 17-9, and some of the newer members of the team had a chance to show their abilities.

Mr., Mrs. N. P. Anderson Are Golden Wedding Celebrants

April 9, 1893, a young Swedish couple stood upon the threshold of their life together. They were married at a little Lutheran church in Boden, Sweden, in the days when the Scandinavian countries were unmolested by the fears of war.

This same couple, Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Anderson of Wetaskiwin, celebrated the 50th anniversary of their wedding day, as honored guests at a reception Friday afternoon in the Royal George hotel. Twenty-six relatives journeying from as far distant as the United States were present for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson were presented with gifts, and Mrs. Anderson smart in a printed silk frock wore a corsage of yellow roses pinned at her shoulder.

Together the couple made the years roll back, to the time when 53 years ago they embarked for America, and stayed for a brief four years in Seattle. Upon journeying to Canada, they settled immediately in the Wetaskiwin district to take up farming.

They have six children: Ainer P. Anderson of Edmonton; Mrs. A. Marvold of Seattle; Mrs. Axel Brandstrom, Portland, Oregon; R. Anderson and Mrs. V. Nelson of Wetaskiwin; and Mrs. Donald Sorensen, Killam.

Of their nine grandchildren, one, William Brandford of Seattle, is taking an officer's training course in the U.S. Signal Corps. He is a graduate of the University of Washington.

The couple attend the Swedish Baptist church quite regularly. They would like to return to the land of their birth for a visit, but only intend to make such plans when the war is over.

Mrs. Anderson is 72, and Mr. Anderson is in his 85th year.

Present at the banquet Friday afternoon were the following: Reynold Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Verner Nelson, of Wetaskiwin; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sorensen of Killam; Mrs. Christina Nelson of Wetaskiwin; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Isaacson, Miss Gladye Isaacson and Theodore Isaacson, of Falun; Mrs. Axel Brandstrom of Portland, Ore.; Mr. and Mrs. A. Marvold, and Helmer Hedberg of Seattle, Wash.

Status of Women Chief Subject at Canadian-U.S. Women's Meet

OTTAWA, April 10.—(CP)—Social security, reconstruction and status of women, will be among the subjects discussed at the conference of the joint Canadian American Women's Committee on International Relations to be held in Montreal april 15, 16, and 17, it was announced today.

Miss Frances Perkins, United States Secretary of Labor, and Miss Margaret Bondfield, former British minister of labor, will be the speakers at an open meeting Thursday evening, and will also give further talks and broadcasts during the conference.

A year ago, the committee began to study co-operative machinery between the United States and Canada. Its interest was stimulated by conferences on each side of the border, and for this conference it will study international co-operative machinery as exemplified by the International Labor Office. Speakers from the I.L.O. will outline the work their organization has done in the field of social security, and other subjects of special interest to women.

Miss E. Stewart Gives Address on Food Conservation

"Food Conservation in Wartime," was the subject of an address by Miss Eileen Stewart, home economics lecturer for Northwestern Utilities Ltd., at a meeting of Women of the Moose held recently. Miss Stewart spoke of the importance of menu planning to aid in food conservation.

Five applications for membership were received by the organization, and arrangements were made to hold a progressive whist at the next meeting, April 21. Cards will begin at 8 p.m. Wool was distributed among members who are knitting seamen's socks.

Mrs. H. C. Marshall, chairman of the home-making committee, introduced the speaker. Refreshments were served later.

POVERTY OUT

Bulletin Asks Co-operation of Women's Clubs

Clubs, organizations and individuals wishing to have items of news published in The Bulletin are asked to write clearly or type all notices submitted on one side of the paper only. These items should reach The Bulletin office not later than 10 a.m. on the day intended for publication.

Such items as weddings and personals will be taken over the telephone and persons having such information are asked to phone 26121 and ask for the women's department.

Club meetings, club calendar notices and reports of annual meetings which include lists of names, cannot be taken over the telephone, owing to the possibility of error. These notices should be sent in or mailed to reach The Bulletin not later than the day after the event has taken place.

Notices of regimental auxiliary meetings should be submitted to Mrs. Janet Robertson, phone 34308.

All notices, including advance notices of club functions, should include the names of conveners and committees in charge of arrangements. Correct initials should be included with all names.

Because of a short staff, due to scarcity of trained help and other wartime regulations, The Edmonton Bulletin would like those making use of the "Club Notes" and "Daily Calendar" columns to co-operate by abiding by the above suggestions.

Rideau Hall's Wartime Life Is Full Day

By MARGARET ECKER

OTTAWA, April 10—(CP)—The fairy-tale picture of a princess, sitting in an ivory tower with folded hands, waited on by a bevy of servants, doesn't fit Princess Alice.

The wartime days of the wife of Canada's governor-general, the Earl of Athlone, are crammed as full of activity as those of almost any woman in Canada. She doesn't sit down on the job, either.

Princess Alice walks mile after mile inspecting war industries, military establishments and other elements of the war effort with her husband. Reporters in Ottawa, Montreal, Toronto—in fact, from coast to coast—know she has intelligent and interesting comments to make about virtually everything she sees.

Princess Alice is a tall, slender English woman with white hair and blue eyes. She is quite an early riser—the hour depending on the morning's program. By 11 a.m. she has always had her breakfast, a walk through the grounds of Rideau Hall if the weather is reasonable, and has read her mail.

MEETS MANY PEOPLE

Appointments start at 11. It may be the head of a war service or of a large women's organization, or it may be someone who has rendered a particular service to Canada.

Princess Alice doesn't relax after her morning. Most days there are guests for lunch—always official guests now, because there is no purely social entertainment at Government House. Two afternoons a week she makes no appointments, Tuesday and Thursday, because she's up to her eyes in other work.

Tuesday a group of women who sew comforts for the Navy gathers at Rideau Hall and the hostess' needle is one of the busiest. Thursday Princess Alice gets herself tangles up in splints and bandages. With members of her staff, her lady-in-waiting Vera Grenfell, some of the Government House servants and a few women from Rockcliffe suburb she studies first aid under instruction of the St. John Ambulance Association.

When her afternoon engagements permit she likes to walk, not in the gardens of Rideau Hall but along the corridors of hospitals, or war factories. Recently she has been visiting Ottawa barracks of the R.C.A.F. Women's Division, the Canadian Women's Army Corps or the Royal Canadian Women's Naval Service.

"Her Royal Highness is very, very interested in the welfare of women in the services," said Miss Grenfell.

Princess Alice and the Governor-General seldom have a quiet dinner alone. Usually they are guests for dinner at one of the foreign legations here, or they entertain themselves.

EVENINGS BUSY

Princess Alice doesn't get many free evenings, either. When she isn't entertaining officially or being entertained, she likes to go to the art gallery or listen to good music.

Trips away from Ottawa don't mean relaxation for they are not pleasure jaunts. She went to Montreal one day recently. The party arrived in time to attend a symphony concert.

By 10 o'clock next morning she was at the Neurological Hospital and spent two hours walking about the buildings, talking to patients and hearing about equipment. She entertained guests at lunch and in the afternoon attended a meeting of the Junior Red Cross. In the evening she attended another musicale and returned to Ottawa.

"Calling Mrs. Jones"

How well we remember your daughter Mary's wedding and what delight you had in helping select her furnishings. This morning, when you inquired if we had any baby carriages, by the tone of your voice, we could tell what was running through your mind. No, Mrs. Jones, you could not stem the tide of a quick romance . . . followed by a hasty marriage and the problems of a sudden separation. Mary is still young and the delicate task of family ties is bewildering to her.

But you, Mrs. Jones, you know the meaning of the preservation of the home. You realize, too, that war's casualties are not limited to the battle fronts. In the face of realities, you have become the "Commanding Officer" on the home front—now more than ever it has become our duty to have supplies for you. No, Mrs. Jones, we haven't many carriages, yet, since this is one of the tools that you need, we will have one for you.

Winter Wheat Crop In U.S. Estimated 558,551,000 Bushels

WASHINGTON, April 10.—(AP)—A winter wheat crop of 558,551,000 bushels was forecast by the United States agriculture department yesterday.

The report said the winter wheat crop declined about 66,000,000 bushels since December under the influence of adverse temperature and moisture conditions. A crop of the size indicated would be about average but would be 145,000,000 bushels below last year's harvest.

Victory Vitamin GARDEN

FOR HEALTH AND VICTORY

Plan Victory Crops to Give All-Season Yield

Smart planning for the vegetable garden requires attention to the question of continuous harvest.

Take radishes. The early ones are edible for about one week, then turn pithy. Suppose you want a six weeks' supply. You must make six sowings, each sufficient for one week's needs. If you sowed six weeks' supply all at once, then you would have for one week enough radishes to last for six weeks, and would you be sick of radishes!

There are only certain crops that require this succession sowing. The table below gives them, and for each it states the period during which the harvest from one sowing will remain in good condition.

You will note that carrots, beets and beans are on the list. These three items will, in fact, give a harvest all season long, if they must; provided the beans are kept picked clean and not allowed to make seed. The carrots grow big and so do the beets, and they are still sweet, tender and nutritious even in the fall, when they are likely to be enormous. Still, they are better when they are younger so several plantings are usually advised.

Beans bear better when they are young; but it is surprising how well they continue to bear all season, if they keep healthy, and are picked clean. The best plan is never to let beans form in the pods. Use the pods when they are at the tenderest stage. That is the time to put them into cans also.

You can get a continuing harvest of some vegetables by sowing at the same time varieties which mature early and late. Then one harvest will follow the other.

Plan All-Summer Harvest of These Short Season Vegetables

In Column 1 is given the time during which the harvest from one sowing remains in top condition. In Column 2, the space in the garden row required to serve a family of four one meal. These figures are approximate, since gardening cannot be a precision job, and use them as a guide with broad tolerances, and they will help you avoid serious waste, and scarcity as well.

Crop	Column 1	Column 2
Beans, snap	4 weeks	1 foot
Beets	6 weeks	1 foot
Carrots	8 weeks	2 feet
Cucumbers	4 weeks	2 feet
Endive	6 weeks	1 foot
Lettuce	6 weeks	1 foot
Kohlrabi	3 weeks	2 feet
Turnips	2 weeks	1½ feet
Spinach	2 weeks	3 feet
Sweet Corn	10 days	4 feet
Onion Sets	4 weeks	1 foot
Peas	2 weeks	3 feet
Radish, early	1 week	1 foot
summer	2 weeks	1 foot
winter	6 weeks	1 foot

How to Lighten Heavy Victory Garden Soil

If your Victory garden plot has six hours' sun a day, and is free from the roots of trees and shrubs, its soil can probably be put into good condition to grow vegetables.

The most frequent condition which needs correction is a predominance of clay, which makes a heavy soil, difficult to work, which holds water well but shrinks and cracks when dry.

The problem of dealing with clay is simply to make it coarser. It is composed of fine particles which refuse to collect in coarser grains. When there is just the right amount of moisture in clay it can be spaded, crumbled and worked with ease, but when too wet it should never be touched, and when too dry it resists all your efforts to work it.

It can be coarsened by mixing with it coarse materials, such as old ashes, cinders, fine gravel, or well decayed organic matter from a compost heap or old manure pile. Sand is often recommended, but a little sand often seems to make clay harder, very large quantities should be used, if any. Instead of sand, fine limestone screenings, which are just as cheap, will do a fine job.

Lime has a special effect upon clay. It makes the fine particles collect into coarser grains, which let water and air through more readily, and are easier to work. Heavy applications of limestone may be used, say 20 pounds to 100 square feet, without any bad effects. Besides its chemical effects upon clay particles, limestone is a physical coarsener.

Soils that are too sandy let water through too quickly, and with the water goes much of the plant food which you had intended to be stored for the use of your plants all season. If the sand has a clay subsoil, it will check the escape of the water, and by spading deeply and turning up some of the subsoil to mix with the sand you can improve the top soil. Clay can be mixed with sand in small quantities to good effect, and any form of decayed organic matter, or humus, will help make sandy soil retain water and fertility. Lime also improves sandy soil.

How to Secure Capitol Theatre Rose Bushes

Secure a Capitol Theatre Rose booklet, then detach the coupon in the booklet, white your name and address on same and present at once to Pike & Company, who will book your order for whatever rose bushes you may wish to secure from the list of varieties shown on pages 6 and 7 of this booklet.

It is only by special arrangement which the Capitol Theatre have with Pike & Co. that it is possible for our patrons to secure these first-class No. 1 rose bushes at the low price. This year the number of rose bushes available is limited. Pike & Co. can only offer a certain number of each variety at special low prices under the Capitol Theatre proposition. After that stock is booked up regular catalogue prices will prevail, so please make your selection from the attached list and register your requirements with Pike & Co. immediately.

To avoid disappointment, please make use of the coupon as soon as possible, your order will then be booked for delivery of your rose bushes in the spring, but your order must be place at once to ensure your getting the varieties you particularly want. You will be notified when same are ready for distribution, so that if you wish, you may (according to your booked order) have the privilege of selecting the bushes yourself. If you have any doubt as to the varieties to order Pike & Co. will be pleased to advise you in the selection of these varieties most suitable for your particular location and requirements.

In regard to country orders— Mail the coupon together with a list of the varieties required and when the bushes are ready for distribution they will be forwarded either by mail or express, C.O.D. If you wish to save C.O.D. charges send payment with order. Owing to scarcity of packing materials no order will be accepted for less than three rose bushes.

Greens and Salad Leaves Rich in Needed Minerals

Kale Is One of the Best Green Leafy Foods

Nutrition experts consider the mineral content of foods as important as the vitamin content. The minerals needed in the largest quantities are calcium and phosphorus.

In planning the Victory Garden the principal question to be considered is whether there are particular crops to be grown for their mineral content, in addition to those which are vitamin-rich.

The answer is no. The vegetables which contribute vitamins to the diet, also contain minerals. Take for example calcium, which is required in the largest quantity and is most likely to be lacking in poorly planned diets. It is also the mineral expected to be scarcest under food rationing.

Children need more calcium than adults. While an adult requires 8 grams each day, adolescents require 1.4 grams and infants 2 grams. It builds strong bones and teeth, and is important in many bodily functions. Its principal source is milk and cheese; but after these come the green, leafy vegetables, the same that are richest in Vitamins A and C.

Here is a list of vegetables containing calcium, given in the order of their value, the richest first: Green outer leaves of cabbage, turnip greens, mustard greens, watercress, endive, Swiss chard, beet greens, dandelion greens, celery, spinach, leaf lettuce, parsnips, leeks, turnips, beans, cabbage heads, carrots and onions.

The calcium content of vegetables will vary according to the presence of calcium in the soil. Soils most likely to be deficient are the black soils, newly plowed or spaded, from which the lime may have been washed out over a period of many years. Sandy soils and those in wooded sections also are likely to need lime.

Lime is easily added, preferably in the form of fine limestone, applied before the garden is spaded and thoroughly mixed with the soil. Lime has great value in stimulating the growth of plants, also. Though not a fertilizer, it makes plant food present in the soil more available to the plants.

Phosphorus is contributed by the following garden vegetables, given in the order of their value: Fresh lima beans, green peas, parsnips, collards, loose cabbage leaves and broccoli. It is also found in many other foods which will be reasonably abundant under rationing, so it is not necessary to grow any vegetables especially to provide it.

The green, leafy foods which are so valuable for their vitamines and calcium are also good contributors

[illegible] of this as well as other minerals. One does not expect to get all his quota of any vitamin or mineral from any one dish, as a rule. But in planning the menu there should be a good representation of the foods which contain these vital ele[illegible]

PLANT A Wartime Garden

Home production of vegetables is needed now more than at any other time during the war. Help by growing the vegetables your family needs.

Plan to have a good garden. A garden that is not a success is a waste of materials and manpower. We cannot afford waste.

Make Your Garden a Success

Choose a good site: If your own yard is unsuitable, try to arrange for the use of a vacant lot with good soil and not shaded by trees.

Grow for your own use: Plan to grow only the vegetables you need for your own household.

What to grow: Select for planting only those vegetables you will use. The size of the garden is a factor. The small backyard garden might contain tomatoes (one dozen plants will give plenty of tomatoes for use fresh and for canning), beans, beets, lettuce, radish, carrots, onions, and spinach or swiss chard. In larger gardens, such additional crops might be considered as cabbage, cucumbers, squash, corn, peas, turnips, potatoes, depending upon the family's likes and dislikes.

Avoid waste: Buy only the amount of seed you will need. Seed which you waste might have been used profitably by someone else. Can the tomatoes, peas and beans that you cannot use fresh. Surplus potatoes, squash and root vegetables may be stored for winter use.

Have a good garden: Consult with experienced neighbours before planting your garden. Get advice on arrangement, seeds and seeding, setting out plants, cultivating, weeding, spraying, fertilizing, watering.

Many local horticultural societies, gardening clubs, and other organizations are sponsoring wartime garden programmes this year. A special pamphlet entitled "The Wartime Garden", giving practical advice on how to grow vegetables and how to protect the growing crops against insects and disease, is available without charge, from the Publication and Extension Division, Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Purchase only the tools you need. Co-operate with your neighbours by sharing garden implements. You can manage with a spade, a digging fork, a hoe and a rake.

The new cafe is under the proprietorship of Gorman F. Chan, one of Edmonton's best-known Chinese citizens and is located immediately west of the Cecil hotel.

Mr. Chan has been here since 1930 and has been in the cafe business for about five years. Before going into the cafe business he was manager of Canada Fruit. Papers Prepare Readers For Axis Tunisia Defeat

By JOHN A. PARRIS

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin
Copyright, 1943, by British United Press

LONDON, April 10.—A Swiss dispatch said today the German and Italian propaganda ministries have ordered Axis newspapers to prepare their readers for the defeat and possible annihilation of their armies in Tunisia.

Italian newspapers were reported to make [illegible] with editorial pieces that the Italo-German forces make a last-man stand with the knowledge that "the fate of Italy is in the balance."

HINT FLEET ACTION

A broadcast over the Nazi Paris radio quoted Berlin circles as suggesting that a British fleet may be en route to the Tunisian coast, presumably to bombard the Axis bridgehead from the sea and to attempt to prevent any evacuation of German Marshal Erwin Rommel's troops.

If the suggestions are borne out by events, the broadcast said, a great naval battle may be in the making.

There still was no confirmation of a Madrid report that Adolf Hitler and Premier Benito Mussolini met in the Brenner Pass yesterday to discuss the defence of Italy against an Allied invasion.

Neutral sources in Berne, Switzerland, close to Italian quarters flatly denied that any such meeting had been held and said Hitler and Mussolini hardly would have waited until now to draft plans for an invasion that may be imminent.

Reports that the German and Italian propaganda ministries have ordered Axis editors to take a pessimistic view toward the outcome of the fighting in Tunisia came from the Zurich bureau to the British exchange telegraph agency.

CONFIDENTIAL NOTE

The exchange agency quoted a confidential note sent to German editors as saying:

"Owing to the superior numbers and equipment of the Allies, Axis troops in Tunisia might be forced into positions from which escape might become increasingly difficult and finally probably impossible."

The agency also said that German military spokesman in Berlin had declared that the consequence of the British Eighth Army's break-through in southern Tunisia "demands earnest consideration." The success of Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, he said, was "undeniable."

Reports reaching Madrid said that both France and Italy are evacuating thousands of inhabitants from the Mediterranean coast. Franco-German police were said to be searching private homes in France for weapons or other incriminating material and many inhabitants have been sent to concentration camps.

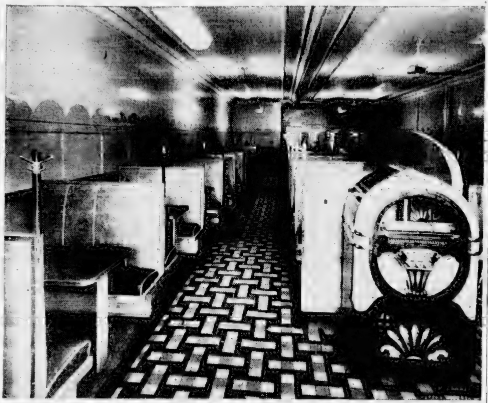
Dieppe Veteran Back in Canada

MONTREAL, April 10.—(CP)—Pte. O. O. Fenner, who won the Military Medal at Dieppe for service with the South Saskatchewan Regiment, passed through here yesterday with the group of troops who had seen up to three years' service in Britain. Others in the group were Staff Sgt. P. B. Discher of Calgary, a veteran of the first Great War, and Pte. P. Severigst, an Indian with the Regina Rifles.

New Jasper Lunch One of City's Most Attractive Cafes



Adding greatly to the cafe facilities in downtown Edmonton, the new Jasper Lunch opened Saturday under the proprietorship of Gorman F. Chan, one of the city's best-known Chinese. Located immediately west of the Cecil hotel, the cafe is attractive and modern in every detail from the shining new metal kitchen utensils to the modernistic fluorescent lighting. This picture shows the inside of the smartly-decorated cafe. Walls are done in subdued green, brown and tan shades while counter and booth seats are covered in tan and red leather. The cafe is staffed with experienced and efficient help. It will be a good place to go for breakfast, dinner, supper or a late evening snack.

Pair of Canucks Have Field Day 'Train Busting'

LONDON, April 10.—(CP)—Flying Officer D. M. Grant of Calgary and Watrous, Sask., and J. W. Pace of Lanark, Ont., pilots of an R.C.A.F. army co-operation had what they called a "successful field day" over northern France yesterday, the air ministry news service announced.

In less than 40 minutes the two Canadians, flying Mustangs, attacked a dozen locomotives in a stretch of 90 miles. Three of the locomotives were running loose but the rest were pulling freight trains.

The pilots said the only place they encountered opposition from the ground was at Serqueux where they made two heavy attacks on a group of three trains.

"Our attack on the 12th engine which was hidden behind a fairly large hill, was perhaps the most exciting of all," one of them said. "We got into position and as soon as the guns were trained on the engine we opened fire. There was a terrific burst of steam.

"Then I caught sight of a high wooden flak tower about half a mile away. It was just asking for trouble, sitting right in our line of flight, and we gave it an extra strong burst.

"We almost certainly hit everything we fired at and of the 12 engines hit, seven looked as though they were pretty badly damaged."

Gasoline Ration Sets Record on Vancouver Trams

VANCOUVER, April 10.—(CP)—New traffic difficulties face Vancouver as a result of stricter gasoline rationing which went into effect April 1, traffic officials said yesterday after studying figures presented by the B.C. Electric Railway Company, Ltd., to the wartime advisory transit committee. The figures, result of a periodic check conducted by the company, showed April 3 was the heaviest Saturday for street car travel in the company's history with [illegible] passengers carried or 17,000 more than the average for Saturdays in February and March.

Cologne Area Hit In Dusk Attack

By LEO BRANHAM

LONDON, April 10.—(AP)—Industrial concentrations in the oft-battered Cologne area were pounded again yesterday in a dusk attack by swift Mosquito bombers of the R.A.F., winding up a daytime aerial offensive in which Spitfires shot up Nazi supply trains in France and Typhoons and Spitfires downed four enemy fighters over the Strait of Dover.

Not a British plane was lost in the sweeps, which lasted from mid-morning to dusk and ranged from Le Havre to the Rhine.

"During the day aircraft of the fighter and army co-operation command attacked and damaged several locomotives and other targets in northern France," the air ministry said last night.

Charge Vancouver Woman With Murder

VANCOUVER, April 10.—(CP)—Marjorie Wilson, 40, was charged with murder yesterday in connection with the death of Melbourne Christian Sorensen, 58. Sorensen was stabbed Wednesday in a rooming house and died in hospital Thursday. Marjorie Wilson lived at the same rooming house as Sorensen.

Firms in City Supply Goods

Many Edmonton firms played an important part in the work of making the new Jasper Lunch one of the most attractive cafes in the city.

The firms were called on to do their most modern work and the finished job is a credit to the firms and to Gorman F. Chan, proprietor of the new restaurant.

Counters, seats and the many ultra-modern fixtures were supplied by the Sommerville Co. while the vitrolite front and plate glass were supplied by Pilkington Bros.

The colorful decorating job throughout the cafe was done by Blanchett Decorators. North-West Tent and Awning Co. supplied the awnings. Insurance on the building is carried by the Wawanesa Insurance Co.

Laundry work of the cafe will be done by the New Method Laundry. Tobacco and fruit supplies will be ordered from the Brown Fruit and Royal Fruit companies. Milk, butter and ice cream will be products of the Woodland Dairy.

Bakewell Tea and Coffee Co. will supply the cafe. Menus and other printing will be done by the Douglas Printing Co. Reynolds Manufacturing Co. will make uniforms.

Glider Girl

By OREN ARNOLD

CHAPTER XXVI

“LORRY! For Pete's sake keep mum now. This is the big moment!” Jimmy Carr was pleading in hushed but desperate tone.

The reporter had run to get his staff photographer who was a few yards up the train of sailplanes. In the interim, four people held strange conference.

“Keep mum, Jimmy?” Loraine asked loftily. “But why? I thought we had an understanding.”

“We did! But—my lord, we—”

Pat spoke up, “Loraine, please! You mustn't spoil the show now. For Jimmy's sake. Your own! Any hint of personal trouble or scandal that might involve Jimmy—”

“That's a fact, lady!” Big Ed Bryan added. “You better let Miss Pat keep right on using your name.”

The reporter was back. “That's the one. The tall girl, Rusty. In the flying togs.” He was speaking rapidly to his photographer, and he called louder to Jimmy now. “Okay, Captain? Is she on?”

Ed Bryan stepped in once more to help a friend, and save face here all around.

“Sure she's going,” Ed boomed, genially. “Name's Lo—uh, name's Mary Smith. S-M-I-T-H, Smith. More woman interest for this sky train, see? She's gonna ride with Captain Carr in the towing plane.”

“Swell! Can I talk to her now?”

Jimmy, suddenly understanding Ed, grabbed Loraine's arm. “Not till we get back! Come on, Loraine!”

Nobody noticed that he used her real name, grabbing her and rushing away toward a jeep. In a moment they were riding up to the tow plane, far ahead. And the officials assumed this was a signal for everybody else to get going.

They saw all pilots sent to their ships, but most interest centered on Pat Friday — alias “Loraine Stuart, Captain Carr's financee”—as she got in the last sailplane of all. And then, before anybody quite realized it, the hour was 4 o'clock. A signal was given and far ahead Jimmy started rolling.

A great cheer rose from the 20,000 spectators.

Bands blared out. People were in a frenzy of excitement, and justly so. Slowly, slowly, the glider train began to snake along the runway. Then all at once it was gathering incredible speed. Pilots waved. The cheering increased.

Like some gigantic kite tail, this sky train lifted gracefully off the ground. It was spectacular! Breath taking! Here indeed was a beautiful maneuver, and here indeed was a harbinger of things to come.

Back in the tag-end plane, Pat Friday felt a sensation of achievement and power. She was in the big company and yet she was all alone! Many yards ahead of her was the ninth plane, flying prettily as its notch in the kite tail. Phoenix was streaming under them now, for Jimmy was circling, far, far ahead. As if she didn't know how many, Pat began counting—1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, and then her own plane. Beautiful craft, all. In varied colors against the Arizona sky.

Suddenly Pat was aware of that sky. She looked around the horizon. It was steel-to-azure-to-turquoise until it neared Superstition Mountain; there on its horizon lay an ominous black. This gave Pat a little shuddery feeling, for she remembered the warnings of death up there. Then of course she laughed. Superstition was just a legend, a name.

Jimmy was making a great arc now, leading back toward the east and that same mountain. To demonstrate what could be done, he made the train form as deep a curve as possible. It brought him almos half way around or so it appeared, and when he began to straighten again he actually managed to stick out a handkerchief and drop it.

“Yoo hoo, Number 10!” he called via radio, devilment in his tone.

“Oh!” Pat saw the white dot.

Then she promptly dropped her plane in return salute.

The maneuver sent a wave up the entire line! It could have been scary, and it was to people who just looked on. Playing crack-the-whip this way in the sky was distinctly unconventional! Radios began to have their fun about the hero and the heroine playing games along the sky train.

“Okay, back there in Number 10,” Jimmy now radioed. “You're doing swell, Pat.” He quite forgot to call her Loraine.

“Not doing so bad yourself, Jimmy.”

“Are you scared?”

“No.”

“You're tops, lady! You have what it takes to fly these things!”

That was deserved praise, but untactful. Besides him, the real Loraine had heard the conversation in her own ear phones.

She reached over and flipped both sets off the air, then snapped at Jimmy direct: “What do you mean.”

Jimmy turned to her. “Hunh?”

“Jim Carr, if you don't stop making love to that girl!” Loraine was biting mad and Jimmy saw it.

“I wasn't making love!”

“You certainly were and I don't like it. She's a contemptible little sneak, and if you intend to marry me you might as well understand I won't put up with it. Do you hear?”

She said it so vehemently, so harshly, so wilfully, that Jimmy only stared. Then he concentrated on handling his plane. A frown had darkened him and his lips were tight. So this was his Loraine! The girl he was to marry tomorrow noon! . . . She danced well, looked pretty, but—as a wife? . . . Apprehension began to assail Jimmy. And yet—“I've obligated myself; I'll go through with it!” he told himself flying there. Thus matters rested for 10 minutes.

It was just time enough for Loraine to come to her senses again.

In a nervous strain herself, of course, she had done the wrong thing. And now she realized it. Contritely, and a bit desperately she smiled at him and began talking in a melted tone.

“Jimmy, darling, I didn't mean it. Not that way. I—you do love me, and I do love you.”

Jimmee darling apparently didn't want to answer. He flipped back to the radio, began speaking to his pilots in strictly technical language, all-for-business now. Even Pat, far behind him, caught the odd change in his manner and tone.

But neither Pat nor Jimmy nor any of the others really had time to conjecture on personal details.

Each of the 10 pilots, plus Jimmy towing them, had seen that Superstition cloud. It wasn't a mere cloud now. It was a black, boiling monster, stretching around the compass from north to south. And as a harbinger it was already attacking the sky train with driving, pelting, hailstones and sand.

To Be Continued.

Pay Deductions Are Protested by Soldier Settlers

SASKATOON, April 10—(CP)—Fifty delegates, representing soldier settlers in many sections of Saskatchewan, unanimously adopted a resolution here yesterday urging the Dominion government to rescind Order-in-Council P.C. 10172, which deals with certain deductions from pay and allowances of men now serving in the Canadian armed forces.

The resolution said that “it has come to our notice that by Order in Council (P.C. 10472) the Soldiers Settlement Board has been permitted to order deductions made from the pay and allowances of dependents of men now serving in the armed services to be applied against land and taxes.”

It stated that the majority of soldier settlers had already paid more than their land was worth today and “they should now be relieved of this responsibility by the government,” and asked that any sums of money already deducted from pay and allowances be refunded.

British Planes Land in France, Pick Up Youths

BERNE, April 10—(AP)—A dispatch to the Gazette de Lausanne said yesterday British planes frequently have landed in France and picked up youths anxious to join the Allied forces either in London or Africa.

During the first two weeks in March, the newspaper reported British planes landed at La Palisse and transported 60 French youths. When the Germans learned of the organization working to facilitate the departures, they arrested 20 hostages from the population of La Palisse and plowed up the field which had been used for landings, the Gazette said.

Buying Is Active In Winnipeg Pit

WINNIPEG, April 10—(CP)—Light offerings were quickly absorbed on Winnipeg Grain Exchange today sending [illegible] prices [illegible] cents [illegible]. The May [illegible] closed 1⅜ cent higher at 97¼ cents a bushel, the July 1¼ to 1⅜ cents higher at 98 to 98⅛ cents and the October 1¼ cents higher at 99⅜ cents. Buying was attributed largely to local interests although moderate purchases were reported for American and Canadian mill account.

Export business in Canadian wheat to the United Kingdom was estimated at 400,000 bushels.

Removal of the price ceiling on rye permitted an increase of more than five cents. Only a moderate volume of rye futures changed hands, however.

Shippers took approximately 400,000 bushels of July oats and the price reached the ceiling level of 51½ cents a bushel.

Grain inspections at Winnipeg yesterday totalled 187 cars against 382 last year. Country marketings amounted to 351,000 bushels compared with 299,000 a year ago.

All Chicago Grains Score Advances

CHICAGO, April 10—(AP)—An upturn of more than a cent in rye, reflecting a sharply higher market at Winnipeg, paced advances in all grains today. Trade reports said some of the heavy rye stocks were going into mixed livestock feed.

Wheat closed ½-1⅛ higher, corn was unchanged at ceilings, oats advanced ⅝-⅞ and rye spurted ⅞-1½.

Russia to Expand Cultivated Lands By 16 Million Acres

MOSCOW, April 10—(AP)—With Russia's "battle of the harvest" in full swing, the Soviets have decided to increase the total cultivated land by 16,000,000 acres over last year, authorities here said yesterday.

The government has called on farmers to increase the cultivation of grain lands by 9,750,000 acres.

The Moscow News gave figures on the losses suffered by the Soviets from the German occupation, saying that in the Salsk district 7,000 head of cattle and 40,000 sheep were seized by the invaders.

The Stavropolsk territory in the Caucasus lost more than 2,000,000 head of cattle and about 500,000 domestic fowls during the German occupation.

UP TO THE WALL--- THE ONE FACING OUT OVER THE RIVER-- THE U-BOAT SHOULD BE IN MIDSTREAM AND ALMOST STRAIGHT OUT FROM THE CASTLE BY NOW-
YES--AND TOO FAR BELOW THE SURFACE FOR ANYONE TO GUESS IT'S THERE AT ALL-
AH-H--HERE WE ARE---SEE? IT SHOULD BE OUT THERE BY NOW--JUST --ABOUT--THERE-- SH-H! IT IS THE TIME---
EH? THE TIME? WHAT TIME?
I CAN'T SEE ANYTHING-
GAD! WHAT WAS THAT?
LEAPIN' LIZARDS!
4-11-43
THAT, MR. MITT, WAS THE U-BOAT--AND ALL HANDS, AND THE FORMULA AND THE SMALL SAMPLE OF THAT NEW EXPLOSIVE!
GREAT SCOTT, MAN! THAT STUFF SURE HAS POWER! BUT WHAT MADE IT GO OFF---AND HOW DID YOU KNOW JUST WHEN?
FORTUNATELY, I HAD A MOMENT WITH THAT PACKAGE, BEFORE HANS HURT CAME FOR IT---I ADDED A FEW INGREDIENTS--INCLUDING THE WORKS FROM ANNIE'S WATCH--- SET FOR A MOMENT AGO-- SIMPLE, WAS IT NOT?
APPARENTLY IT WAS-- FOR YOU!

SCENE: THE CENTRAL HOSPITAL
TRACY, YOU SHOULDN'T BE WALKING ABOUT THE HALL. YOU SHOULD BE IN BED
THERE WAS NOTHING WRONG WITH ME, PAT —JUST A LITTLE OVER-EXPOSURE TO OLD MAN FROST
WHAT ABOUT THE BABY?
THAT'S WHY I'M PACING THE HALL. THEY TELL ME IT'LL SOON BE OVER
TAKE ANOTHER TEMPERATURE READING, NURSE
THE CRISIS IS HERE. I GIVE HIM ANOTHER TEN MINUTES
I'M WAITING FOR THE BOY'S FATHER TO ARRIVE. HE BEGGED TO BE ALLOWED TO SEE HIS SON BEFORE IT WAS TOO LATE. I PHONED HIGHWAY HEADQUARTERS TO BRING HIM IN THE RAT!
WE'LL TAKE THE CUFFS OFF YOU, NIFTY, AFTER WE'RE UP IN THE BOY'S ROOM.
LET'S HURRY- THAT'S ALL.
IT'S ALL MY FAULT. IF I HADN'T TRIED TO TAKE HIM FROM MY WIFE, THIS WOULDN'T HAVE HAPPENED
TAKE IT EASY, NIFTY, EASY.
WHERE IS HE — WHERE IS HE?
NIFTY!
IT'S ALL MY FAULT- I DID IT! I KILLED HIM —AS SURELY AS IF I HAD DONE IT WITH A GUN.
MY BOY! MY LITTLE SON!
A SOB OF ANGUISH - A MOMENT OF TENSE SILENCE - THEN, A TINY HAND MOVES AND SLOWLY RISES FROM THE PILLOW ———
DA-DA---- MY DA--DA--
WH-?? HE SPOKE! THE CHILD SPOKE!
THE FEVER HAS BROKEN!
CAN IT BE?
I THINK — PAT — THE WREATH FAMILY IS TOGETHER AGAIN.
